Red Warships Take Part in Manuevers

LONDON (AP)—Three Soviet warships appeared as unofficial escorts today for the screen of four U.S. destroyers operating around the U.S. aircraft carrier Independence in maneuvers in the Norwegian Sea.

Observers on the carrier reported to London that the Russians were now practically taking part in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization exercise.

Staff officers on the Independence identified the Soviet ships as two destroyers of the Kotlin class and a destroyer-escort of the Riga class.

There also was a flush of Soviet air activity. Three contacts from the carrier — all at a distance of more than 100 miles — led to interceptions by Crusader and Phantom jets from on board.

One Russian aircraft was reported to have flown over the carrier. This plane, identified as a Badger, circled four miles from the carrier until, escorted by U.S. fighters, it made off over the horizon.

Adm. Kleber S. Masterson, commanding the NATO striking fleet, said from his flagship that he welcomed the presence of the Russian ships and the close attention of the Soviet aircraft to get a close look at the fleet.

"They have the effect of keeping our people on their toes," he said.

The NATO maneuvers, which will last until Oct. 2, involve 170 ships, 160 aircraft and more than 30,000 men from seven nations — not counting the Russians.

Drives on for Renewed Polio Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Renewed drives this fall and winter to vaccinate younger age groups against polio, with less emphasis on adults, were urged today by the Public Health Service.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry made public recommendations by a special advisory committee on oral polio myelitis vaccine and said the service was accepting them.

The committee concluded: 1. Primary emphasis should be given in all communities to the immunization of all infants during their first year of life.

2. The age groups to be immunized in mass programs and the vaccine chosen for use should be determined locally.

3. The oral vaccination of individuals over school age — about 18 years — should generally be recommended only in those situations in which unusual exposure to poliomyelitis might be anticipated, such as epidemics, entry into military service and travel to other countries.

Terry said the shift in emphasis away from adults toward younger age groups was forecast in a similar committee report in December 1962.

Weather to Get Cooler in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cooler weather is in store for Arkansas tonight and Thursday, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today.

Showers and thundershowers predicted for the eastern half of the state today should give way to clearing skies and cooler maximum daytime temperatures Thursday, the bureau said.

Overnight low readings of 48 to 56 north and 55 to 60 south are predicted, compared to minimum readings today ranging from 64 at Fayetteville and Harrison to 72 at Pine Bluff and Texarkana.

Maximum temperatures Tuesday ranged from 72 at Fayetteville to 92 at Pine Bluff. Northeast Arkansas reported heavy rains Tuesday, with Fayetteville receiving 2.59 inches, Harrison 1.92, and Walnut Ridge 1.23.

Woman Guilty of Stealing Cigars

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — It doesn't pay for a woman to be seen with a handful of cigars — if she didn't pay for the cigars. Helen Margaret Hall, 47, of Lansing, pleaded guilty Monday to stealing five cigars — valued at 28 cents — from a gasoline station.

Municipal Judge Earl E. McDonald sentenced Mrs. Hall to a 60-day jail term and charged her $50 fines and costs.

Brush Fire in California Out of Control

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire whipped by erratic winds raged on today through a residential area of expensive homes with no immediate prospect of control. Scores of homes were evacuated during the night in the eastern part of Santa Barbara and the exclusive Montecito suburb. Evacuation centers were set up in the Municipal Recreation Hall and Santa Barbara High School.

An army of 1,000 men fighting the fire included bearded Bohemian-type men from an artists colony working alongside county and U.S. Forest Service men and Mexican agricultural workers brought from nearby farm labor camps.

Officials said at least 2,000 acres had been scorched. The number of houses destroyed varied widely in official estimates because of chaos during the nighttime hours. Officials once said 30 had been destroyed but today Sheriff James W. Webster said it was 20 and probably more and the U.S. Forest Service said at least 17.

Ten airplanes dropped fire-retardant chemical solutions on the flames. One dormitory housing 180 girls was evacuated at Westmont College, a private educational school, but the dorm was spared and the girls were expected to return today. However, the college canceled today's classes.

The fire began Tuesday afternoon and for a time did not appear to be a major peril. Firemen believed at one time they had it nearly contained or surrounded, but winds up to 45 miles per hour in the hills flanking Santa Barbara whipped it out of control.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who flew to inspect the disastrous northern California fires Tuesday, saw the Santa Barbara fire on his way back to Los Angeles and called it "a terrible sight."

The fire was in parts of Santa Barbara, Montecito and the Continued on Page Two

Berlin Wall Crossing Deal Made

By CARL HARTMAN
BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and his West German Cabinet approved today an accord with Communists to let West Berliners cross the wall for visits to East Berlin.

Erhard's spokesman said the Cabinet decision was unanimous. Details of the agreement were not immediately announced. The spokesman, Karl Guenther von Hase, said there would be a meeting of the negotiators in East Berlin to make the final draft. Signature is expected Thursday.

The accord is for the benefit of the 2 1/2 million West Berliners. The 55 million inhabitants of West Germany can visit East Berlin by going to a crossing-point in the wall and asking the East Germans for a pass.

The 17 million Germans who live in East Berlin and East Germany have great difficulty visiting the West until they reach retirement age. Communist authorities have well-founded suspicions that many visitors to the West would never return. That's why they built the wall.

There was almost no restriction on movement between the two parts of Berlin until the wall was built in August 1961.

The Communists set up the system of passes for West Germans and non-Germans visiting East Berlin. At first the Communists planned to issue passes to West Berliners, too, but Western authorities would not allow them to set up offices for this purpose in West Berlin.

A temporary agreement was reached before Christmas last year. The East German government issued passes in West Berlin for short holiday visits by West Berliners to East Berlin.

Many West Germans resented the fact that East German officials were allowed into West Berlin. The passes designated East Berlin as the "capital of the German Democratic Republic," whose existence is not recognized by the West. Long lines of applicants had to wait outdoors in the cold for hours to obtain the passes.

Faubus Defends Backing of Democratic Ticket and Win Discusses 2 Party System

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller turned up with a cold and Gov. Orval E. Faubus held a hospital news conference in gubernatorial campaign developments Tuesday.

Faubus, wearing pajamas and a bathrobe, met newsmen in a hospital waiting room in his first public appearance since Friday when he was hospitalized for treatment of a respiratory infection.

The governor made up for the time he has missed, discussing a wide range of campaign topics and dropping a statement that he "wouldn't be surprised" if Rockefeller spends $2 million on his campaign.

By contrast, the governor said, his own expenses would be "less than $300,000."

Rockefeller addressed a Little Rock civil club at noon, presenting himself as a "man with a plan" for Arkansas.

He was hoarse and, after a cough, he remarked, "My adversary goes to the hospital with this kind of problem."

Faubus said he has no second thoughts of regrets about endorsing the Johnson-Humphrey presidential ticket, even though the endorsement angered some of his supporters.

"I don't blame them for being mad," Faubus said. Then he explained again that the endorsement was made out of loyalty to the Democratic Party.

But he said that he had no intention of snubbing Sen. Hubert Humphrey when the Democratic vice presidential nominee appeared at the Democratic State Convention last Friday. Faubus said he would have been on the platform with Humphrey if he had not become ill.

Faubus' absence was interpreted in some quarters as a deliberate affront, compounded by the fact that Mrs. Faubus left the convention hall before Humphrey arrived and did not return until after he left.

The governor said Mrs. Faubus left under the impression that she was to attend a reception with Mrs. Humphrey and that she failed to return because she went to the mansion where she made preparation to make a speech accepting Faubus' sixth term nomination at the convention.

When Faubus was asked about the arrest of three Highway Department employees who were charged last Friday with using state equipment to print counterfeit money, he said that he learned about the incident during the investigation that led to the arrest and that State Police and highway officials co-operated.

Then he added, "I know someone was going to say that this is the only way we can match Rockefeller's campaign fund — to roll the presses and print our own."

Faubus said he still plans to be in Texarkana Friday for an appearance with President Johnson if he is physically able. He said it is unlikely that he will be able to make a party meeting in Pine Bluff Thursday.

Rockefeller told his civic club audience that effective planning is necessary to promote both educational and highway improvements in Arkansas.

But he said he isn't ready to go into specific details about his plans because he doesn't want to Faubus camp to get wind of them and use them before he has a chance to.

Rockefeller said his candidacy had revealed a genuine interest in a two-party system in Arkansas, then he quipped: "Of course we already have a Faubus Party and a Democratic Party. I put on my billboards that I'm a Republican but I don't see anywhere on his billboards that he's a Democrat."

Rockefeller said that increasing teacher salaries, which he favors, is not enough to give Arkansas the kind of educational system it needs.

"We must have leadership from the state Department of Education," he said, suggesting establishment of a statewide testing program so that the various school districts could compare what they are doing for their children.

Rockefeller said that over half of the state's schools still are not accredited by the North Central Association, the accrediting agency for this section of the nation.

Rockefeller charged that Faubus is being "arrogant" when he promises to build roads and bridges when the Highway Commission is supposed to be a politically independent agency.

And he contended that the rural road construction program advocated by the governor will demand a one cent increase in the gasoline tax if it is to be financed.

Rockefeller charged that Faubus is putting pressure on welfare clients in an effort to make them support him and he called this a "most shocking trafficking in human lives."

"Here we are convincing these poor people that this money is coming from a personal bureaucracy," he said. "This isn't true."

In answer to a question from the floor Rockefeller said that he had no doubt that, as governor, he could work with a Democratic legislature.

"We've got fine men in our legislature and they'll work with me as long as I give them the kind of program that Arkansas wants and needs," he said.

Frisco Told Fix Street or Move Tracks

The City of Hope has been trying unsuccessfully for several months to get the Frisco Railroad Company to improve their tracks and the street surface between division and west third street. At the last meeting of the Board of Directors, the matter was referred to the City Attorney for study and such legal action, if any, as seemed proper.

James H. Pilkinton, City Attorney, told the Star today that he could find no right of way, easement, or other instrument in writing which would give the Frisco the right to have its tracks in Louisiana Street in the first place.

He said that he was going to give the railroad notice to move the tracks out of the street. "Since the statute of limitation probably would not run against the city, they can just move their tracks and the city will fix the street," he said.

The city attorney said that if the railroad had anything in writing giving it the right to use Louisiana Street, he would be glad to look it over, but that he had been unable to find such document at the City Hall or the Courthouse.

It looks like the next move is up to the railroad — either move the tracks, improve the street, or both.

Two footsore hunters used their shotguns to rob a farm worker of his tractor Tuesday so they could ride to the nearest highway.

John Thomas Bennett, 34, said he was plowing in a field off Highway 51 when two men approached him wearing hunting clothing and carrying shotguns. They said they had been out all night and asked directions to Highway 51.

After Bennett had given them the directions, they pointed their shotguns at him and one of the men pulled him off the tractor. The men then climbed on the tractor and rode away toward the highway.

Police found the tractor abandoned about half a mile away.

Goldwater Hits LBJ's Handouts and Subsidies

By WALTER R. MARS
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today President Johnson wants to cut defense spending in favor of "handouts here, subsidies there," and declared: "That way lies national suicide."

Drumming criticism of the Democrats' foreign and defense policies, the Republican presidential nominee said that if the United States is to halt communism and safeguard freedom "we must be stronger than the enemy by far."

"We must realize that the responsible use of power — to deter those with hostile intent — is not so largely to provoke all-out war as it is to prevent war," Goldwater said in an address prepared for the American Legion's national convention.

"If the Communists believe the odds favor them," the Arizona senator said, "they will not hesitate to hit us with their most fearsome weapons."

Goldwater said the administration now proposes "to cut our military spending in order to provide funds for sticking the government's fingers in a still larger mess of pie — for handouts here, subsidies there."

He said that effort is likely to end up "draining the public's purse" and doing more harm than good.

Two Planes Shot Down in Viet Nam

By JOHN T. WHEELER
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force planes were shot down early today and one American and one Vietnamese pilot were presumed captured by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

The two Skyraiders with an American and a Vietnamese pilot aboard each were shot down while attacking guerrillas near Rach Gia, 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

The occupants of one plane bailed out. U.S. military spokesmen said the American was missing. The Vietnamese was rescued.

The second plane crash-landed and the American made his way to government lines. The Vietnamese pilot was missing and presumed captured.

The planes were giving close support with bombs and cannons to two posts and a tow under attack by Viet Cong forces. A 50-caliber Viet Cong machine gun was reported in the area, and U.S. sources said it was assumed this downed the two planes.

The planes carry Vietnamese markings but are U.S. Air Force craft used to train Vietnamese pilots.

Government and Communist troops were reported still fighting in the area where the planes crashed.

Rejects Offer of TV Debate Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Republican Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that he would reject a television station's offer to meet Gov. Orval E. Faubus on the air for a debate.

But Rockefeller, the GOP candidate for governor, said he would face Faubus before questioning newsmen.

Faubus, who would not comment on the debate proposal because he had not been formally notified of it, said the prospect of him and Rockefeller meeting newsmen together was interesting.

KATV, Channel 7 in Little Rock, promptly offered prime viewing time for the candidates to face newsmen.

4 Trapped in Nuclear Shaft Are Rescued

MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — The last of four men trapped Saturday night in an 1,800-foot-deep test hole was hoisted to the surface today.

All were in good condition. They had been lowered fresh food and other supplies throughout their three and one-half day ordeal at the Nevada test site.

Last to come up — at 8:08 a.m. — was George R. Cooper of Tucson, Ariz. The others, were Floyd Shaw of Santa Barbara, Calif., Leland Roeder, 45, of Pioche, Nev., and Art Lubnow of North Las Vegas, Nev.

They were stranded when a thick cable being installed to link instruments in the underground nuclear blast chamber with the surface, snapped and fell into a spaghetti-like tangle around the clock finally cleared the cable, restored the elevator to operating condition, and began bringing the quartet up.

It took more than a hour for the two-man elevator to make the trip down to the 30-by-30-foot chamber and return. An elevator operator went down on each trip.

"I'm well and happy to be upstairs," said Shaw, when he surfaced at 4:20 a.m.

Fort Smith Newsman Dies at 70

ROSLYN, N.Y. (AP) — Clarence Franklin Byrns, 70, a longtime newspaperman, prominent Southwesterner and often called "Father of the Arkansas River program," died here Tuesday.

He had been in failing health for some time.

Byrns, who had been living at the home of a daughter, retired from active editorship of the Fort Smith, Ark., Times Record and the Southwest American on Jan. 1, 1963.

He had spearheaded drives for congressional appropriations to control floods on the Arkansas River.

He was a member of a six-man delegation that went to Washington in the 1940s and convinced Congress of the value of a huge construction program to make the Arkansas navigable. The $1.2 billion program is scheduled to be finished in 1970.

In 1960, Byrns was honored by the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce as a "Great Living Arkansan."

Byrns was born at Ladonia, Tex. His family moved to Hugo, Indian Territory, in 1906, a year before the territory became the state of Oklahoma.

His newspaper work began as an office boy on a weekly at Hugo in 1907. Three years later Byrns graduated from high school and in 1914 he became a reporter for the Southwest American. He went from there to a reporting job and then managing editor of the Muskogee, Okla., Times Democrat.

In 1920 Byrns came city editor of the Times Record and four years later he was promoted to editor of both papers.

Byrns was a trustee of Midwest Research Institute and Southwest Research Institute. He was a member of the State Advisory Board of the Farm Security

Jury Calls in Witnesses in Slaying Case

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — A federal grand jury calls or questioning today the last man known to have seen three civil rights workers before they were killed.

Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price of Philadelphia, Miss., said he had nothing significant to tell the jury of 22 white persons and one Negro.

Price arrested the three men on a speeding charge at Philadelphia June 21, held them five hours, released them that night. The federal grand jury is limited to violation of civil rights indictments. A state grand jury, capable of returning murder indictments, opened a probe in Philadelphia. All grand jury sessions are secret.

In Philadelphia, Circuit Judge O. H. Barnett—a cousin of former Gov. Ross Barnett—urged the grand jury to return murder indictments, if possible.

Judge Barnett, in his public charge to the grand jury Tuesday, said Neshoba County had "been indicted and tried before the whole world" because of the three murders.

He urged the 18 all-white jurors to "rise up in righteous indignation and disgust to stop the unlawful taking of human life and find the guilty."

The three men—Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 21, a Meridian, Miss., Negro—were en route to investigate the burning of a Negro church when they were arrested.

Their bodies were found Aug. 4 under a newly constructed red clay watershed dam about seven miles from Philadelphia.

The team of Justice Department lawyers spreading the case before the federal grand jury had many witnesses who were members of the church which was burned after armed white men surrounded the building and beat the church elders.

The church had been used for a voter registration meeting. The evidence being unfolded was gathered by one of the most intensive investigations in FBI history.

New Railway Empire in Giant Step

By ROGER LANE

NEW YORK (AP)—A mighty new railroad empire nearly four years in the making will link the Missouri Valley to the East Coast next month.

Its formal creation under sponsorship of the Norfolk & Western Railway will mark a giant step toward reorganization of the nation's rail network into perhaps a dozen regional systems.

The greater Norfolk & Western, barring an 11th-hour hitch, will begin taking shape Oct. 16 under a consolidation plan involving five other roads.

Combined, their tracks will sprawl 7,800 miles through 14 states and cross into Canada near Buffalo, N.Y.

On the west, the tracks will link Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; St. Louis, Mo.; Des Moines, Iowa; Chicago, and other cities to the bustling Atlantic Coast port of Norfolk, Va., on the far side of the rich Pocahontas coal country.

Hinged on the present N&W, a thriving coal-hauling line, the new system is expected to generate annual revenues of around $550 million. This would put it seventh among American railroads, although in it will not place among the top 10 in mileage.

As a moneymaker, it would rank at or near the head of the 100 major railroads. Assets will total $1.9 billion.

Joined with the N&W will be the Wabash and Nickel Plate railroads, both major properties, along with the 110-mile Sandusky (Ohio) line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the 171-mile Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad and the 132-mile Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad.

The track for completing the merger was cleared last week when the Pennsylvania Railroad pledged to divest itself of 31.3 per cent of N&W voting stock.

Stuart T. Saunders, Pennsylvania chairman since last Oct. — and prior to that architect of the merger as president of the N&W — called the pledge an "act of faith."

The Interstate Commerce Commission had conditioned approval of the N&W expansion program on divestiture by the Pennsy of N&W and Wabash securities totaling more than $400 million.

Earlier, the Pennsy had refused to give up its holdings pending ICC approval of a proposed merger of the Pennsy and the New York Central Railroad.

Persistent Pennsy refusal, railroad analysts agreed, would have torpedoed the vision nurtured by leading rail executives of three competitively balanced regional rail systems in the East where several roads have suffered heavy losses in recent years.

Brush Fire in

Los Padres National Forest. To the north 350 miles, forest officials were optimistic that they had gained the upper hand over two raging fires which have charred 50,000 acres of the state's wine belt.

By Tuesday night the fast-moving flames had swept wide swaths across Napa and Sonoma counties, scenic country famous for its tall timbers and terraced vineyards. The hungry fires stopped only when the winds quieted late in the day.

Fire officials said it was miraculous that there had been no serious injuries. Unseasonably high temperatures kept the forests tinder dry.

The Division of Forestry said there were three major fire fronts. Hundred sof firefighters spent two desperate days holding fire lines from Calistoga on the eastern front to Santa Rosa on the west and Sonoma in the south.

An estimated 40 to 50 homes were destroyed in Calistoga early Monday and about half the town's 2,500 residents were evacuated. The Napa Valley resort community is about 60 miles north of San Francisco.

The Calistoga fire, whipped by winds that sometimes reached 70 miles an hour, raced about 20 miles west to a northern suburb of Santa Rosa.

Porks Nominated for Academic Team

DALLAS (AP)—Five Arkansas Razorback football players have been nominated to the Southwest Conference Academic team.

Forty-one players from around the conference were nominated for their classroom work as well as proficiency on the football field. A B average is required.

Members of the first team will be named in December by a press panel.

The Arkansans are guard Dick Hatfield, center Randy Stewart, quarterback Fred Marshall and halfbacks Ken Hatfield and Larry Watkins.

Goldwater Hits

 Goldwater called for "true economy, not the false economy of weakening our defenses."

He said the only real Communist maneuverers in the cold war is "their hard-headed, cold-blooded assessment of the risk they must face."

"It is not compassion or decency which prevents their attacking us," Goldwater said. "They respect our power and they fear provoking its use against them."

He said American foreign policy based on "false answers" to cold war threats has made Communist expansion "altogether too easy."

 "The worst of the false answers is that the Communists will stop being hostile if we accommodate them," Goldwater said. He called that a naive misreading of Communist intent.

He fired a new volley of charges at Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, saying the Pentagon chief has made "mistake after mistake" in dealing with communism.

In quick succession, Goldwater accused McNamara of: —An effort to turn the Defense Department into a disarmament department.

—A part in the massive mis-evaluation of Soviet intention which led to the Cuban missile crisis.

Markets

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Poultry markets:
 Delmarva: Live prices continued to decline more than one-fourth cent. Demand fair for moderate heavy offerings. At farm prices 15.2 to 16 cents per pound.

East Texas: Market about steady. Offerings ample for fair demand. At farm prices 13.00 to 15 cents per pound.

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand for soybeans and grains slackened today on the Board of Trade and prices slipped late in the session.

"Persistent attempts to turn basic defense decisions to political purposes."

session on increased selling.
 A depressing factor in the wheat trade was news that the Commodity Credit Corp. has sold around 20 million bushels of government wheat to export.

Liquidation and hedge selling also affected corn, oats and rye with prices lower most of the session.

Carlot receipts were estimated: wheat 4; corn 165; oats 73 rye 4, barley 17, soybeans 17.

NEW YORK (AP)—Airline and selected issues showed strength in a mixed stock market late this afternoon. Trading was active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.6 million shares compared with 5.26 million

Tuesday.
 Fractional gains and losses were the general rule among key stocks, but the favored issues throughout the list advanced a point or more.

Gains exceeding a point were made by Western Air Lines, Pan American, United and American Airlines.

IBM rose more than 3. Up a point or better were Verdy, U.S. Smelting and Dymco Industries.

Milwaukee Road was up about 2 following news of a merger agreement with Chicago & North Western which was off a fraction.

Texas Gulf Sulphur also was heavily traded and gained more than 2.

Hopscotch
 The "scotch" in the word "hopscotch," merely means "scratch" and, in playing the game, the contestant must hop over lines scratched in the ground.

Up a point or better were Norfolk & Western and Trans World Airlines. Delta Air Lines rose about 2.

General Motors and Ford took fractional losses. Chrysler moved slightly higher after early wavering.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were higher in heavy trading. Bonds were mostly unchanged.

Hollis - Wilson Vows Exchanged
Miss Judy Carol Hollis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Hollis of Patmos, and Hugh Allen Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wilson of Siemport, La., exchanged marriage vows Friday, September 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. A. C. Kirby, pastor of the Patmos Baptist Church, officiated at the ceremony before an attractive mantle arrangement of white mums and candles.

The bride wore an ice blue nylon sheath with a small hat and other accessories of white. Her flowers were fleur d'amour.

Miss Linda Calhoun was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant. She was attired in pink and had a white carnation corsage.

Nicky Hollis of Stamps, brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hollis wore brown with bone accessories, while Mrs. Wilson, the bridegroom's mother wore blue. Each had a white carnation corsage.

After the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room where they were served punch and wedding cake from a table centered with white roses.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Nicky Hollis and Nicky Glen and Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Ray Hollis and Rhonda Kay, all of Stamps, and from Siemport, La., were the bridegroom's parents, his brother, Danny, and his niece, little Miss Ramona Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are now at home on North Elm Street in Hope. She is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and he works for Standard Generator Service Company.

Centerville H-D Club
On September 16 the Centerville Home Demonstration Club was shown how to prepare a dried arrangement of flowers in a frame on plywood by Mrs. Gladys Altom. This proved to be a most interesting Eye Opener for the meeting held in the home of Mrs. Dewey Collier.

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Snellgrove, called the meeting to order, and all joined in singing "Down By the Old Millstream." The hostess read Psalms 100 for the devotion.

Mrs. Altom brought a lesson from the series of Civil Defense studies which the H-D Clubs have been having. Routine business transpired, and seven members answered the roll call with clever hints to the home-maker. A poem, "If Nobody Smiled," was read by Mrs. Snellgrove to everyone's enjoyment.

Cookies, salted nuts, and cold drinks were served for refreshments, and several games of bingo were played with prizes going to the winners. The door prize went to Mrs. Faught.

Wesleyan Service Guild
Plans were laid for a mission study for Wesleyan Service Guilds 1 and 2 at a meeting of Guild No. 2 Monday night, September 21 in the home of the President, Mrs. Hinton Davis. A study of "Genesis, the Beginnings of the Biblical Drama," will be held jointly by the two Guilds beginning on October 26 under the direction of Missionary Education chairman Mrs. J. W. Perkins and Miss Mary Anita Laseter.

White chrysanthemums and Gurnsey lilies were attractive floral additions to the meeting place. During the business meeting.

Hurricane Spares Most of Coast

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Most of the coast of the nation's most densely populated area will be spared the damage that had been threatened by fickle Hurricane Gladys, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast today.

The eastern end of Long Island was a possible exception. The Weather Bureau said no potentially dangerous winds were expected between Cape May, at the southern tip of New Jersey, and Block Island, R.I.

The major remaining threat seemed to be from flooding caused by tides two to three feet above normal.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in New York City said the "latest indications are somewhat more optimistic."

At 6 a.m. reconnaissance aircraft placed the center of the hurricane about 220 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

Permission Okay for Power Line

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission has authorized Southwestern Electric Power Co. to construct a 69-kilovolt power transmission line to the site of a nuclear research station near Fayetteville.

The 2.37-mile line would branch off the company's main transmission line northwest of Strickler in Washington County and pass through territory previously allocated by the commission to Ozark Electric Co-operative.

The commission issued a separate order approving construction of the line through Ozark territory.

In another order, the commission approved construction by Southwestern of a 23,436-foot 12-kilovolt line north from its Greenland substation in Washington County.

The center had not been expected to hit the Northeast. Evacuation plans were ready for several danger spots from North Carolina northward. Many property owners boarded up homes and business places and build sandbag protection.

Emergency stores of food and water were on hand, and flashlights and candles were distributed.

Hubert Says Barry Is Not Responsible

By HARRY KELLY

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey told Indiana voters today that if they want a responsible president they'll have to vote Democratic.

"In such a difficult and demanding period of history, this nation has no choice but to elect as president the man who knows the meaning of responsibility, who has demonstrated his capacity to bear the immense burdens of this office."

"Responsibility has been the hallmark of the Kennedy-Johnson administration and responsibility is the single quality which most distinguishes President Johnson from the leader of the Goldwater faction," the Democratic vice presidential candidate told a courthouse rally in this southwestern Indiana city.

"Unlike the leader of the Goldwater faction," Humphrey said in his prepared remarks, "I come to Evansville today to reaffirm the conviction that we need not fear the future, we need not retreat to the past, we need only seek the help and the hands of the American people in our quest for a better America."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, campaigned in Evansville last Friday and centered his fire on the administration's fiscal record. Humphrey defended this record and said the Democrats had demonstrated responsibility by "taking an economy which has suffered three recessions in eight Republican years and transforming it into an economy which produces 43 consecutive months of record-breaking growth."

Governor to Leave Hospital

"Responsibility," he continued, "is reducing the unemployment rate from 7 per cent in January 1961 to less than 5 per cent."

After speaking here Humphrey planned to skip northward to Terre Haute, near Illinois, and to Fort Wayne, in the eastern part of the state.

Humphrey figured to find friendly territory in both Evansville and Terre Haute, the home towns of, respectively, Sen. Vance Hartke and Birch Bayh, both Democrats.

This campaigning around the state's edges also affords the chance of a bonus: what the politicians call "exposure" through television, radio and the press in neighboring states — in this case in Illinois and Ohio, as well as Kentucky.

Both Illinois and Ohio are among five big-vote states Humphrey plans to hit hard in his campaigning. The others are California, New York and Michigan.

Bus Lines Seek to Raise Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Five bus lines have notified the Arkansas Commerce Commission of their intention to raise intra state fares by 10 per cent, effective in November.

Other bus lines are expected to file similar rate increases, because 15 lines, most of those doing business in Arkansas, filed a joint application for a 10 per cent increase in August.

The August application asked that the new rates be approved on 10 days notice, and it was denied by the commission.

Since then, Arkansas Motor Coach Lines, Inc., Arrow Coach Lines, Continental Southern Lines, Illinois Coach Lines and Midwest Bus Lines have filed new rate schedules individually.

The rate increases will take effect automatically unless the commission receives protests before the effective dates.

Faubus said he felt better today.

He said he would fly to Texarkana Friday to meet President Johnson.

State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney is substituting for the governor in talking to key Democratic leaders in Southwest Arkansas.

By the time Faubus recovers, that phase of his campaign probably will be finished.

"I may have one or two places left such as Jefferson and Pulaski counties," Faubus said.

National Loop Drive May Be Just Starting

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

You know that pennant race in the National League. . . It may just be starting.

The Cincinnati Reds saw to that Tuesday night, capitalizing on Chris Short's wildness and a homer by Frank Robinson for a 9-2 victory over National League-leading Philadelphia that trimmed the Phillies' lead to 4½ games.

The second-place Reds and the third-place Cardinals, five games back after a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets, actually are in a better position than Baltimore and Chicago. The White Sox are in the worst position — five games down in the all-important column.

The other three pursuers are four games back in that department, but there's one big difference in the two races. The contenders in the American League do not meet again while the Reds and Cardinals still have games remaining with the sluggish Phillies.

And Cincinnati Manager Dick Sisler knows it.

"It sure does remind you of '50 all over again," said Sisler, who played for the Phillies in 1950 when they blew a 7½-game lead in the final 11 games and had to win the pennant from Brooklyn on the last day of the season.

The Phillies' loss to the Reds was their second in a row and their fourth in the last six games. Philadelphia has 10 games remaining — three each with St. Louis and Cincinnati, including another with the Reds tonight.

In other games Tuesday, Pittsburgh's Bob Veale tied the major league strikeout high for the season by fanning 15 batters in a 2-1 loss to Milwaukee. Dick Estelle won his first major league game in San Francisco's 7-1 victory over Houston and the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 behind eight innings of shutout relief by Cal Koonce.

The American League-leading Yankees, meanwhile, made it seven victories in a row by whipping Cleveland 5-3 and 8-1, Baltimore lost to Detroit, 2-1, Chicago dropped a 1-0 decision to the Los Angeles Angels, Boston shut out Washington 3-0 and Kansas City outlasted Minnesota 10-9.

Short, now 17-8, put himself in a jam in the third inning and the Reds wound up with four runs. As it turned out that was enough for Jim O'Toole, 16-7, who kept eight Philadelphia hits fairly well scattered.

Walks to O'Toole and Chico Ruiz around a single by Pete Rose got the Reds started in the third. One run scored when Yada Pinson hit into a force out

Players Make Yogi Smart Manager

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I feel more like a genius than I did a month ago," Manager Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees exulted Tuesday night after sweeping a two-night doubleheader from Cleveland, 5-3 and 8-1.

"When the boys start hitting and the pitchers start pitching, I get to be a real smart manager — that's how I feel right now."

The double victory pushed the Yankees 2½ games ahead of the second-place Baltimore Orioles, who lost 21 to the Detroit Tigers.

Berra said he felt that the team now was over a big hump and could still win the pennant even should it blow both ends of Wednesday night's two-night doubleheader here.

"We still have a big edge in the loss column, and that's the important thing," the Yankee manager added in the happy New York dressing room.

being six games out in late August.

"Maris has improved his batting average close to 20 points in the last few weeks; Mickey Mantle is feeling great again; and all of our pitchers are coming through for us — especially young Mel Stottlemyre."

The rookie right-hander won his eighth game in 10 decisions since joining the club Aug. 11 by taking the opener with some ninth-inning help from reliever Pedro Ramos.

Berra also had high praise for Phil Linz, subbing for the injured Tony Kubek at short. Linz was fined by Berra for playing a harmonica on a bus following a Chicago series that the Yankees lost in late August.

"Phil has come through in great style for us," Berra said. Linz, who hit a home run and a single in the second game, said he believed the harmonica incident had a lot to do with relaxing the team and spurring it on its late drive.

Marshall to Start the Tulsa Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Fred Marshall will start against the University of Tulsa here Saturday if he is well, Coach Frank Broyles said here Tuesday.

Marshall, a senior from Memphis, started last Saturday night against Oklahoma State University, but a deep seated shoulder bruise hampered his passing.

Defensive secondaryman Bill Gray, who quarterbacked in 1963, came on to lead Arkansas to a 14-10 triumph over OSU.

Broyles said Marshall "feels better and looked like he was throwing with a little more zip" in Tuesday's practice.

Bob Nix and Jack Brasuell, members of the No. 1 backfield, missed practice with minor injuries. Broyles said they should be able to play against the Hurricanes Saturday.

The river crossing at Batesville dates from earliest times, and before the white man came, villages of the Osage and Cherokee Indians were located there. The crossing was used by the government and improved for the military road completed through Arkansas in 1820.

Yanks Sweep Pair, Bolster League Lead

Associated Press Sports Writer

You know that pennant race in the American League. . . It may just be over.

The New York Yankees saw to that Tuesday night, sweeping a two-night doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians 5-3 and 8-1. The twin triumphs stretched the Yankees' American League lead to 2½ games over the Baltimore Orioles, who lost 2-1 to Detroit, and 3½ games over the Chicago White Sox, who were shut out 1-0 by Los Angeles.

The Yankees hold an imposing four-game edge in the loss column and seem on the threshold of clinching the pennant that looked all but lost exactly a month ago today. On Aug. 22, New York lost its sixth straight and dropped six games off the pace.

Since then the perennial champions have won 23 of 29 including the last seven straight while moving to the top of the heap. Even though their lead is two games less than the margin held by the National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies, the Yankees actually are in a stronger position because their remaining schedule does not call for them to meet the contenders. Philadelphia must play pursuing Cincinnati and St. Louis three times each in its last 10 games.

Whitey Ford and Mel Stottlemyre were Manager Yogi Berra's winning combination Tuesday with relief pitchers Pete Ramos and Hal Reniff helping out.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston shut out Washington 3-0 and Kansas City outlasted Minnesota 10-9.

In the National League, Cincinnati trimmed the Phillies' lead to 4½ games with a 9-2 victory. Third place St. Louis edged New York 2-1, San Francisco ripped Houston 7-1, Milwaukee blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 and Chicago shut out Los Angeles 1-0.

Stottlemyre started the first game and led 5-3 when he fired in the ninth, giving up two singles. Berra went to the mound, hesitated a moment, and then called in Ramos, who came to the Yankees from Cleveland two weeks ago.

Ramos fed Al Luplow a double play pitch to save it for the youngster who has now won eight games since coming up early in August.

In the nightcap, Ford held a 3-1 lead through seven innings and Reniff finished up with a five-run Yankee ninth icing it.

New York belted two homers in each game with Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone connecting in the opener and Mickey Mantle and Phil Linz in the nightcap.

Berra had a broad grin in the happy Yankee dressing room. "I feel more like a genius than I did a month ago," he said.

Baltimore lost it when Al Kaline crashed a two-run homer in the first inning, rubbing out a 1-0 Oriole lead.

Ed Rakow relieved Tiger starter Hank Aguirre after four straight walks forced in a run. He got out of the jam and worked into the ninth when the Orioles loaded the bases again. Julio Navarro came on and retired Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowers on pop flies to end it.

The Orioles stranded 13 runners as Rakow beat them for the third time. Milt Pappas, 15-6, was the loser.

The White Sox never got started against the Angels' Fred Newman, who throttled them with a five-hitter for his 13th victory.

Three of Chicago's hits were high bouncers in front of the plate and the Sox never posed a serious threat. Rookie Bruce Howard, making his first major league start, pitched a strong five-hitter but was tagged with the loss.

The only run of the game came in the third inning with two out when Jim Fregosi doubled and Willie Smith singled him home.

Picks College Grid Winners This Weekend

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — All the football facts and figures were put into the office's new computer, an electronic brain, and here are the college winners that came out. Hopefully, they should be more plentiful than a week ago when a mere pencil was used with the result that there were 31 right guesses and 11 wrong for 738.

This week's picks:
Oklahoma over Southern California: Oklahoma won last week on the passing of its third string quarterback. You can bet that both the Southern Cal and Oklahoma varsities will go all out in this one.

Mississippi over Kentucky: Kentucky is rated a dark horse for the Southeast Conference title which the Rebels consider their birthright. Jim Weatherly's passing to be decisive.

Alabama over Tulane: Joe Namath, Alabama quarterback, will have a field day.

Nebraska over Minnesota: This is the game you'll see on your picture box and you'll see more Huskers than Gophers crossing the goal line.

Army over Boston College: An individual duel involving Carl Stichweh of the Cadets and Larry Marzetti of the Eagles, with the former able to call on more troops.

Princeton over Rutgers: These are the two teams that started it all back in 1869 and this time the Rutgers will be sorry.

Notre Dame over Wisconsin: The Big Ten Badgers generally are favored but the belief here is that Notre Dame will be all charged up and will make the debut of Coach Ara Parseghian as a success.

Auburn over Tennessee: Jimmy Sidle is the reason.

Washington over Baylor: In the belief that Junior Coffey will get himself and the rest of the Huskies untracked in this one.

Illinois over California: The Big Ten defending champions have too much defense for the Golden Bears.

Penn State over UCLA: The Bruins already have defeated Pittsburgh and if they beat State they would become the champions of Pennsylvania. That's poor geography and Glenn Ressler won't let it happen.

Michigan over Air Force: The Falcons pulled their upset of the season last Saturday in beating Washington.

Rice over Louisiana State: The Louisiana Tiger always leaves his claws at home when he travels to Houston.

Syracuse over Kansas: The home field is the deciding factor here.

Texas over Texas Tech: Tommy Nobis of the Longhorns is rated as one of the best line-backers in the country this year.

Namath Is Named Back of the Week

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Quarterback Joe Namath credits the Alabama forward wall with making possible his selection as the first Associated Press Back of the Week of the 1964 collegiate football season.

"I felt I had a decent night, but the rest of the team did everything just right offensively and it made my work so much easier," the 194-pound senior field general said.

The AP selected Namath on the basis of his play in leading the Crimson Tide to a convincing 31-3 victory over Georgia in the opening game for both teams Saturday night in Tuscaloosa.

To win the honor, Namath had to overcome superlative performances by such other stars as Florida State flanker Fred Beletnikoff, Army's Rolfe Stichweh and Virginia sophomore Bob Davis.

Namath, suspended by Coach Paul Bryant for the final two games last year, passed for 167 yards, ran for 55 and scored three touchdowns in his romp against the Bulldogs. His 16-of-21 performance in the pass (throwing department) tied a single game Alabama completion record established 18 years ago by Harry Gilmer.

Bryant said that Namath, whom he described as the best quarterback in the country, "is certainly deserving of the honor. His performance was no more than he had been expecting, however, since his leadership in practice and around the dorm prior to the game was outstanding and vital factor in our mental attitude."

Says Johnson Won't Discuss His Fortune

By ROBERT T. GRAY
IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — President Johnson is "hiding behind a smoke screen" to avoid campaign debate on his personal fortune and other issues, Rep. William E. Miller charged today.
The Republican vice presidential candidate continued his hard-hitting attack on the President as he swung into the second day of an intensive campaign swing that has been dominated alternately by slashing criticism of Johnson and vigorous defenses to allegations of conflict of interest against him self.

In a series of statements and speeches from Washington to Billings, Mont., Tuesday, Miller said Democrats were raising questions about his congressional service in an effort to divert public attention from the Bobby Baker case and other scandals. He continued hitting at the personal financial activity of President Johnson, arguing that there was public "suspicion and doubt" about the way the Johnson family acquired a fortune centered on a television station, a federally regulated activity.

Miller described the President as a man without convictions, one whose ethics needed close public scrutiny.
The Republican nominee pressed his attack against Johnson in a statement issued today as he set out on campaign stops in Idaho Falls, Ogden, Salt Lake City and Provo, Utah, and Portland, Ore.

In stops Tuesday in Indiana, Iowa, South Dakota and Montana, Miller dwelt in detail on his connections with the Lockport Felt Co. in his congressional district in upstate New York. Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey and some state Democratic chairmen have called upon Miller to explain his connection with that firm.

Tuesday night in Billings, Mont., Miller said, as he had previously, that he had opposed "discriminatory wool legislation" on behalf of the company and said he had done so to protect the jobs of its workers. He said he had no stock holdings in Lockport Felt.

Miller had said earlier he was an assistant secretary and director of the firm at a salary of $7,500 per year.
Miller said Tuesday in a radio program recorded for the Mutual Broadcasting System that private polls within the last two weeks show that seven per cent of the Republicans who switched from the Barry Goldwater ticket have gone back to the GOP presidential nominee. He said other polls which show Johnson ahead with about 60 per cent of the voters may not be "all wrong," but they fail to reflect hardworking dedication of Goldwater supporters.

He said if the trend of Republicans going back to Goldwater continued, "substantially all" of the GOP voters "will be for the ticket come Nov. 3."

An independent poll published in last Sunday's Salt Lake Tribune gave Johnson 61 per cent and Goldwater 33 per cent of the voters in Utah, a state which hasn't gone for a Democratic president since 1948.

The poll showed 92 per cent of the Democrats, 24 per cent of the Republicans and 56 per cent of the independents for Johnson.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BATTING — Joe Pepitone, Yankees, drove in three runs with a homer and single as American League leading New York defeated Cleveland 5-3.
PITCHING — Fred Newman, Angels, shut out Chicago 1-0 on five hits, dropping the third-place White Sox 3½ games behind the Yankees.

Ralston May Take Time for Injury

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — If Dennis Ralston's tender right ankle buckles on him in the Davis Cup Challenge Round matches this weekend, he will be given five or six minutes to repair the injured joint and return to action.

The same concession will be made to Roy Emerson or Fred Stolle of the Australian team should either — as a matter of conjecture — strain for a shot and pull a muscle.

Dan Johnson, referee of the matches here Friday, Saturday and Sunday, made this disclosure today in announcing some of the ground rules for the battle between the Australian and American tennis forces.

Injuries in key Davis Cup matches have not been uncommon and the danger of them are increased this year with play on the slippery clay composition of the Harold T. Clark courts.

Ralston's ankle remains a question mark. He hurt it in the Newport Casino tournament this summer and aggravated it later at Southampton.

Ralston's ankle showed no signs of failing in a brisk workout Tuesday during which his game showed considerable improvement.

The Bakersfield, Calif., youngster, a player of moods, was much happier with both his service and ground strokes.

Ralston and Chuck McKinley will play both singles and doubles against the heavily favored Australians, Emerson and Stolle. The first two singles are scheduled Friday, starting at 12:30 p.m. EST, with the doubles at 1 p.m. EST Saturday and the final singles Sunday, also at 12:30 p.m. EST. The draw will be made Thursday.

New Labor Crisis Hits in Saigon

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A new labor crisis hit Premier Nguyen Khanh's hard-pressed government today.

Some 3,000 workers reportedly struck French-owned plantations in Bien Hoa Province, demanding a 50 per cent pay increase and double rice allotments. There appeared a strong possibility that many more thousands of plantation workers in other provinces would join the strike.

Bien Hoa begins about 15 miles north of Saigon, and most of the province is controlled by the Communist Viet Cong. Unconfirmed reports said the workers struck at the demand of Red guerrillas who operate throughout the plantations.

A general strike in Saigon ended Tuesday night, but the new work stoppage underlined the uncertainty surrounding the government's future.

Crisis have beset Khanh for the past two months at increasingly frequent intervals with increasingly serious results. In every case the government has won temporary peace only by making major concessions of political, religious and labor opponents.

The pattern has been one of steady undermining of central authority. A revolt of mountain tribesmen in the highlands of central Viet Nam 150 miles north of Saigon still causes major concern. It began Sunday with a "declaration of independence" and a demand for regional autonomy by several hundred primitive "montagnards" whom U.S. special forces had trained and armed as guerrilla fighters against the Communist Viet Cong.

The revolt appeared today to be spreading throughout Darlac Province and apparently included many more tribesmen than had participated originally. The Saigon government ordered reinforcements of lowland Vietnamese troops into the area.

Graves uses Card strictly as a defensive linebacker, even though some coaches consider it suicide to use a short man at this position because he usually lacks the size to cope with a passing attack.

But Graves let Card speak for himself. Card graded near the top of the team's linemen during its 24-8 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday.

"Big players are not used to blocking anyone my size and think the going is not too rough," Card said. "I just don't have enough surface for them to hit."

"I can move quicker than most big men and the quarterback can't spot me as a defensive man," Card said grinning.

"I vote strictly by the dictates of my conscience," he declared. "If you want to call that maverick, then I guess it is."

The 43-year-old Republican from the Berkshire hills of western Massachusetts has won both the GOP and Democratic nominations in his district had no opposition.

"Who wouldn't want to hit a home run rather than a single?" Conte said with a grin in an interview.

With the Republican nomination clearly in the bag, Conte decided just two days before the Sept. 10 primary to go for the Democratic one also.

Since he is a Republican, the only way he could do this was by a write-in and sticker campaign in the remaining 48 hours.

The only other contender, Frederick L. Luddy, also was forced to wage a write-in campaign for the Democratic nomination because a ballot law commission had ruled that he was not a duly enrolled Democrat for a long enough period before the election.

Conte swamped Luddy by more than 2,500 to 518.

"I argued that this guy was not a legitimate Democrat, and that the Democrats didn't put up a candidate against me," Conte said.

Behind Conte's desk on Capitol Hill are two outlandish totem pole headgears that he picked up on a trip to Nigeria. One of them is bright red. The other is bright yellow. Not exactly or-

Some Little Men Can Play College Ball

By KELSO STURGEON

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Who says college football is a game for big men only?

There's a little 5-foot-6, 165-pound guard at Florida who is living proof that you don't have to have a 60-inch chest and wear size 16 shoes to make it big in a big man's game.

In fact this little guard, Jack Card, says he seldom thinks about his size when on the football field. It's never occurred to him that it makes any difference.

The only real problem Card has had at Florida is getting a number small enough for him. Coach Ray Graves finally gave up and asked special permission from conference commissioner Bernie Moore to allow Card to wear the single numeral "1," which will fit on his narrow back.

Graves uses Card strictly as a defensive linebacker, even though some coaches consider it suicide to use a short man at this position because he usually lacks the size to cope with a passing attack.

But Graves let Card speak for himself. Card graded near the top of the team's linemen during its 24-8 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday.

Nikita Fed Up With the Red Chinese

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the private thoughts of the Kremlin bosses are hard to know, it is commonly accepted that Nikita Khrushchev is completely fed up personally and politically with the Chinese Communists.

This insight into the mind of the decision-maker on the Soviet side reinforces the growing belief that the Soviet Union and Red China are now headed toward a final split in the fairly near future — probably mid-1965 at the latest.

Khrushchev took a personal stab at 29 Chinese Communist delegates at a World Youth Forum meeting in Moscow as recently as last Wednesday. It was his first experience. Back in 1959, he suffered the cold shoulder treatment from the whole ruling group around Mao Tse-tung when the Soviet leader visited Peking after his meeting with President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his tour of the United States.

Such personal rebuffs, however, much they may irritate Khrushchev, serve mainly to dramatize the kind of struggle which has developed between the two Communist giants over the last five years. For what has happened to Khrushchev personally in a few instances has happened many times in recent years to Soviet representatives at international meetings also attended by the Chinese Communists — meetings of women, students, doctors, African experts. The nature of the session seems almost irrelevant.

Behind the contempt deliberately shown for Kremlin leadership of the world Communist movement is Red China's ambition to seize control from Moscow. Khrushchev decided some time ago, according to diplomatic information here that they could deal with Red Chinese rivalry more effectively if the Peking regime were outside the camp.

The conflict began to come into the open in 1959 which was a critical year in Communist development. It was not only the year Khrushchev visited Eisenhower but also the year the Chinese began to make clear their resistance to Khrushchev and his policy of peaceful coexistence by espousing a militant anti-American doctrine.

In that year too, according to later Chinese claims, Khrushchev refused to assist China to become a nuclear power.

The differences have now become so great and the rivalry so entrenched that several developments seem reasonably speculative.

A meeting of Communist party representatives from about a score of countries is to be held in Moscow in December to prepare for a Communist world congress in 1965. The Russians invited 25 other parties to the December conference but the Red Chinese and several others have refused to attend. This events suggest the possibility of a full break between the Soviet and Chinese Communist parties anytime from the start of the December meeting till the end of the projected 1965 conference.

A break on the ideological front, designed by Khrushchev to excommunicate the Chinese Reds as heretics, seems certain to raise tensions between the Russian and Chinese nations closer to the flash point. Border incidents along their long Asian Frontier and around pro-Soviet Outer Mongolia may increase.

As troubles with China grow it seems a safe bet that Khrushchev will try to improve relations with the West in order to secure his Western front while he is menaced from the East.

It is conceivable that China may also try to improve relations with the outside world and this in turn could have a profound bearing on such direct U.S. issues as the anti-Communist struggle in Southeast Asia.

Business Growth Is Big Concern

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With autumn officially starting, the question for most business firms today isn't how long will the current upswing last but how big will it grow.

Management is worrying more about how to handle the greater activity it sees in the months ahead than it is about the few threats that could cut the good times short.

Business worries are: How high will labor costs climb? How large should we build our inventories? How much plant expansion is called for by the rosy predictions? How much more are consumers going to spend now that they've had their fling at saving their tax cut bonanza?

But the signs of still greater activity ahead are the chief factors in today's business outlook — for the fall and into the winter and even the spring.

All three sectors of the economy seem set to spend more: —Consumers have been pushing up retail sales. And the personal income total rose faster in August than in the previous three months, to set a record high of $494 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate. This offers a latter market to the makers and distributors of consumer goods and services.

—Business spending plans increase month by month. Buying of new equipment and building of new plants will give the general economy a nice boost. The forecast of an inventory buildup in some industries will mean greater production in the months ahead, even if it holds a threat of a slowdown when the buildup stocks are finally used.

—Government spending continues to rise at the state and local level. Federal spending has leveled off but still holds high. The possibility of international incidents could keep defense spending from dropping off.

Business thus feels sure that this fall will top last year's in many lines, from production to retailing.

The problem is whether prices will rise with labor costs and with consumer demand — and how much. Some price rises in industrial materials already have taken place as revived demand has dried up surpluses. Other increases could follow.

Bids Taken on Dock Leases

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers received 10 bids Monday for lease of four commercial boat docks on Dardanelle Reservoir. Two sites listed by the Engineers were not bid on. Tabulations should be completed and awards let in about one month. Engineers said one month, west of Russellville; Dardanelle site, northwest of Dardanelle; Piney Bay site in Johnson County and Shoal Bay in Logan County.

Not bid upon were the Spadra site south of Clarksville and the Cane Creek site northeast of Scranton.

"We did it for Jupe. We—he knew you'd be waiting," Candy said, her eyes darkening.

"I can see that it worried him," Ives said dryly.

Candy, flushed but defiant, cried: "It's not us they're hunting—There's no price on our scalps!"

"You don't have to have a price to get shot," Ives murmured, and seemed suddenly less harsh. "I'm not quarreling with you. I know how he felt."

He stared unreadably. The girl had character, a resolute courage, a comfortable steadfastness not at once apparent but infinitely more important to a man than beauty.

He broke away from that thought. "I've some good news for you. About your father—"

"He's alive!"

It did him good to see her joy, that open, unabashed excitement.

"He's had a pretty rough time, been held prisoner," Ives told her. "But he's in good hands. I feel reasonably sure he'll..."

With her face animated by the color of her emotions it was hard to recall he had ever found her plain. She was also quick, and gave proof of it, exclaiming: "Then Jupe is free! You must know who it was—"

"We know right enough who two of them are. I'd hoped we might clear your brother—"

"Hoped!" Candy's widening stare flew against his face darkly. "But you can, can't you? Surely..."

"Three persons held up that stage," Ives said. "One of them is dead. One of them was Renwick and he's very much alive. That third party might be anyone. He was in the Pass and didn't stay with the others. Being back in the brush and never taking off his mask your pappy didn't get very much of a look at him. Fellow could have been Jupe."

"I don't believe it!"

"Of course you don't. But he's young and brash; you can see how it will look now he's gone lapping off on a dash for the tules. Give a dog a bad name, and all that. And the real guilty party, if we can't turn him up, will do what he can to saddle Jupe with the holdup."

"But Sam—"

"Only thing we'll get from Sam Renwick is bullets. He'll gamble till the last, and when he sees he's trapped he'll go for his gun. And I'm afraid—unless I can wind this up quick — your brother in a panic is going to do the same thing."

Maybe Ives was crazy. Jerre French thought so.

Ives was ready now to brace Sam Renwick, and a night and most of the morning spent twiddling his thumbs while listening to the bawling of penned-up cattle had thoroughly convinced him the sheriff was too shrewd to be sucked into this trap.

Neither French nor French's friends had offered to share the risk but that was all right. Ives needed them here to hang onto the ranch, not in town where Renwick's pistolmen could get at them.

Ives was used to going it alone. When Coosie and Brick came up with the declared intention of siding 'him, Frank shook his head. "I don't want Sam's crowd shacking up on this place. Now we've got it away from them let's keep it that way."

"An' what about the feller with the I.O.U.? You figger," Coosie grumbled, "he's goin' to shrug an' throw away a cinch like that?"

"It's only a piece of paper. A claim. To get anywhere it'll have to come into court, be made to stand up—which is the crux of this deal and the reason Hollis Cotten was taken off that coach," Ives smiled at them grimly. "Cotten's alleged signature, produced in evidence, would be subjected to considerable scrutiny. Who do you know that ever had a good look at it? I expect we've seen the last of that fellow with the I.O.U. He was only a front, just a stooge for the sheriff."

Ives was aware he might find it difficult to get into Terrapin. It was in Renwick's best interests to have him stopped, and he had all the toughs he needed to set up an ambush. Ives was counting on pride to override the sheriff's caution.

Renwick had a certain standing to protect. He had this town buffaloed; to keep it that way he'd ought to stamp his own snakes, and Ives counted on him to see this.

If he hadn't discovered Franks identity he'd have no real reason to delegate the chore. Renwick could not reasonably know he'd lost Cotten.

Describes Wild Ride in Cable Car

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The cable car stopped suddenly and began a wild, fast backward roll down Russian Hill. Passengers screamed and shouted. Some jumped off and fell in a tangle of arms and legs.

"All I saw was the hill going fast, and I said 'This is it,'" Susie Baer recalled later. For Mrs. Baer, a 52-year-old widow, and 35 others it was a frightening experience Sunday when the car lost its grip on the cable and began rolling free down a steep block of Hyde Street between Chestnut and Lombard.

After more than half a block the operator halted the car with a rarely used last-resort emergency brake — a metal bar that drops from the car into the cable slot. It jammed so tightly it had to be cut out with a welder's torch.

"Someone said 'Jump,'" Mrs. Baer recalled, and some people jumped off the front. They fell like cats. Some of them were bleeding.

"I looked and saw the bodies falling out, and that beautiful view that I always loved."

"Then the car stopped and I fell from one end to the other. I must have passed out because the next thing I knew my lady friend was over me asking how I was."

Mrs. Baer and her friend, Sophie Miller, 57, also a widow, were among the 20 passengers who refused or were unable to leap from the runaway car.

The two women and seven others were treated for injuries at Harbor Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Miller suffered a broken shoulder.

Sixteen persons, most of them children, vaulted from the front and rear open platforms to the pavement. They tumbled into heaps in the street.

The car had climbed about three-quarters of the way up Russian Hill from Fisherman's Wharf, overlooking Alcatraz, when the grip on the cable failed.

"We could feel it starting to slip, then moved faster and faster backwards," said Joseph Ruiz, 41, of Montebello, Calif.

"Someone shouted 'Jump' and some children near me jumped. I waited too long and when I hit the street I fell and skidded along on my abdomen and arms."

Served Liquor to Minors Five Charged

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — Three corporation executives, a psychiatrist and a teacher are among 12 persons charged with serving liquor to minors at dinner and debutante parties in two Darien homes.

The arrests Monday drew wide attention throughout Fairfield County, one of New York City's most fashionable suburban areas.

The charge is based on a 1933 Connecticut law that prohibits the serving of liquor to anyone under 21, except by his parents. No one could recall it being invoked before.

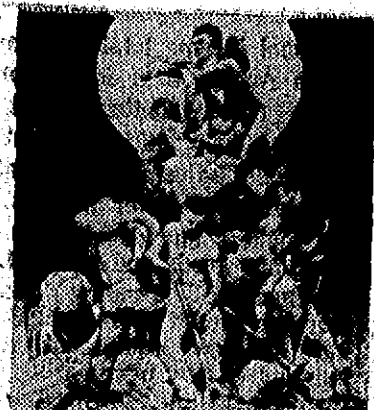

The minimum age for buying liquor in Connecticut is 21. In New York state, just a few miles from here, it is 18.

The statute was invoked by Circuit Court Judge Rodney S. Eielson, presiding at the trial of Michael Smith, 18, who pleaded innocent to charges of reckless driving and negligent homicide in the death of Nancy Hitchings, 17, last June 23.

The two were in a car that crashed shortly after the parties. Smith's trial has been continued until Sept. 30.

One of those arrested was Carlton Josselyn of Westport, a science teacher in Fairfield Public School who was a bartender at one of the parties.

His lawyer, Louis Stein, said: "There were four Darien police men at the party. They saw everything that went on, including the drinking. I have asked that they be arrested as accessories after the fact."

Police often stand by at larger house parties to control traffic on the narrow roads and prevent party crashing.

The parties were held June 22 at the homes of F. E. Dutcher, 54, a vice president of the Johns-Manville Corp., and Dr. George S. Hughes, a psychiatrist.

Hughes, his wife, Julia Ann, and Dutcher were among the 12 who appeared at the police station for booking.

Others booked included two couples described as co-hosts at the Hughes party, William F. Otterstrom, 55, and his wife, Lucille, 54, of Darien, and Dudley, 60, and his wife, Marguerite of Norwalk.

Otterstrom is general auditor of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. Felt is an executive with the New York City advertising firm of Cunningham & Walsh.

The others booked were bartenders and caterers.

Valuable Horse Dies in Fire

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — More than a dozen registered quarterhorses valued at up to $10,000 each by the owner died in a fire that destroyed a barn on the Edwin Johnson Ranch near Caraway Monday night.

Johnson said 12 to 15 horses died in the fire. He estimated his total loss at $50,000. Johnson said he owns about 130 registered quarterhorses. Those in a lot adjoining the barn were saved from injury by heat or flames.

Johnson said when his wife discovered the fire the barn was in almost total flames.

Tourist Attraction — Eric the Red named Grandland to attract more people to go there. There are no forests on this massive island and more than 700,000 square miles of its total area of 840,000 square miles are buried under ice.

Flaming Fall Prospects Are Good

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The weather conditions are good and Arkansas has excellent prospects of its first real "flaming fall" in three years.

"Flaming fall" is the brilliant display of the hardwood trees in North Arkansas after they are touched by first frost.

In each of the last two years, the summer has been so dry that leaves on the trees died and turned brown before Jack Frost took his paintbrush to them.

But this year, rainfall is near normal and state Forester Fred Long said he is looking forward to a beautiful display.

"Don't say I guaranteed it, though," Long said. "You never can be sure when Mother Nature has a hand in things."

What is needed is average rainfall for the next four to six weeks. First frost in Arkansas usually comes in late October or early November.

Trips into North Arkansas for the colorful arboreal review have been traditional in the state. The state Publicity and Parks Commission has in the past published a calendar advising travelers when the best sights could be seen.

Long said this summer was fairly dry but there has been adequate rain in the last few weeks and "Things have greened up pretty well."

Rubber Plant Dedicated at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — William L. Batt Jr., administrator of the Area Redevelopment Administration, said Monday the job of the ARA is to help solve area unemployment problems through private enterprise.

Batt spoke at the dedication of the $11 million Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. plant here.

He said ARA's $7 million contribution toward construction of the Cooper plant was the largest single industrial loan made in ARA's three-year history.

Batt pointed out that the money will be paid back to the government with interest.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said ARA funds are no giveaway. Instead they are a hard-headed business deal, he said.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., said projects similar to the Cooper plant are helping the Southwest become alive.

"The next 50 years belongs to the great Southwest," Harris said.

The Cooper plant is already turning out 2,000 tires a day and is scheduled to capacity, one million tires a year, before Jan. 1.

Mrs. Orval E. Faubus, who is filling in for the ailing governor, was expected to attend the dedication, but was held up by appearances at Magnolia, Lewiston and Bradley.

Eastern Park — Acadia National Park, located partly on Mount Desert Island and in Maine was the first U.S. national park east of the Mississippi River.

Duck population of New York State is estimated at 2,240,000, with a valuation of $14,350,000.

"DEAR ABBY"

PROVE IT, HONEY!
By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I am 15 and so is my boy friend. I promised my mother that I wouldn't let him in the house unless she was home. Well, last Saturday she was gone for a little while and my boy friend came over with a record he had just bought and wanted me to hear. I didn't see anything wrong with letting him in the house just to play the record a couple of times, so I did. He knew I wasn't supposed to let him in the house unless my mother was home, but he only wanted to come in long enough for me to hear the record. The record player belongs to me (it's a portable) and it is in my bedroom. Well, my mom came home and I guess it must have looked pretty bad because the wind had blown the door shut and we were both sitting on the bed. My mother exploded like a keg of dynamite, and she kicked my boy friend out of the house and told him never to show his face around there again. Now she says I can't see him any more and all the trust she had in me has gone down the drain. Abby, is this fair? We didn't do anything wrong. How can I get her to trust me again? NOT TRUSTED

Dear Not: You broke your word and your mother was justified in resenting it. I think she might have better disciplined you privately and admonished the boy with more dignity and less "dynamite." Adults often lose face with childish outbursts of temper. You can get right again with your mother by being ing cooperative. Your chances for getting another chance are better than 50-50 if you behave 100 percent.

Dear Abby: I met a gorgeous girl. She asked me where I was from and I told her I was born and raised in Kalamazoo. She said she had never HEARD of Kalamazoo, but she HAD visited the BRONX ZOO in New York. I wanted to ask for a date but, oh, brother—now I'm not so sure. What would you advise? HARRY WOLF

Dear Harry: Ask her for a date, but don't let her make a monkey out of you.

Dear Abby: I can't understand what is the matter with my son's fiancée. She is either the laziest girl on earth or the most stupid. She is 23 years old and should know better. She has been a dinner guest in our home dozens of times and she never once has offered to help me with a thing. She'll see me setting the table, but she'll sit and read the newspaper. She never asks if she can help me serve, when she knows I have 12 to serve, and no one to help me. When it comes to doing the dishes afterwards, she pretends she doesn't know there's work to do. The last time this happened, I called out in her direction, "I could use some help with these dishes!" She shouted back, "I'll be with you as soon as this TV show is over." But she sat and watched one TV program after another until all the work was done. What kind of future do you predict my son will have?

Jury Hears of Slayings at Biloxi

BILLOXI, Miss. (AP)—The case of the three murdered civil rights workers was unfolding in secret federal grand jury sessions today—with the probe expected to last two weeks.

A team of Justice Department lawyers, using evidence gathered by an all-out FBI effort, seeks indictments on civil rights charges.

Since murder is a state offense, this charge cannot be considered by the federal grand jury.

The three men, all shot with .38 caliber pistols, were dug out of a red clay watershed near Philadelphia, Miss., last Aug. 4. Two were white volunteers from New York, the third a Meridian Negro.

Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey of Philadelphia was among the opening day witnesses called into the guarded, third-floor jury room in the federal courthouse here.

The three were arrested on a speeding charge by Rainey's deputy, Cecil Price, held five hours and released at about 10:30 p.m. June 21.

Sheriff Rainey said he was dismissed by the jury after depositing a stack of records requested by the Justice Department. He said the records go back to 1960.

The tobacco-chewing sheriff, in a jovial mood after his half hour in the jury room said he discussed "only the records" and did not answer any specific questions about the killings.

Virgil Herring, the Neshoba jailer, also was called. He said his wife also has been subpoenaed.

Michael Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 21, of Meridian, were en route to investigate the burning of the Mount Zion Church near Philadelphia when they were arrested.

Twenty Negroes from the Mount Zion area were among

Wallace to Campaign 'The torch Is Crooked Over Nation Business

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—With his own legislature solidly behind him, Gov. George Wallace promised today a fighting campaign across the nation to outlaw federal control over the schools.

The legislature, in an unprecedented three-hour special session, gave unanimous approval Monday night to a resolution aimed at forcing a home-rule amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

It was the first step, Wallace said, in an effort to enlist support from enough states to compel Congress to call a constitutional convention to consider the amendment which would prohibit the federal courts from exercising jurisdiction over school affairs.

The governor invoked a self-denied and never-successful procedure which allows the legislatures of two-thirds of the states to initiate a constitutional amendment without congressional approval.

If it succeeded, and the convention endorsed the local-control measure, the proposed amendment would go back to the states. Three-fourths of them would have to ratify it before it could take effect.

Wallace disavowed a purely racial motive in seeking to keep the federal courts out of the affairs of the schools, even though he spoke only days after classrooms in three more Alabama communities were integrated.

There is no slacking off in the trend, says insurance investigator Brendan P. Battle, manager of the Arson, Theft and Fraud Department of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

"Syndicate-controlled hoodlums are believed to have been responsible for recent fire-setting in at least 10 states in the East and Midwest," Battle said in an interview.

The number of cases investigated by his agency during the year ended April 30 reached a record 904. They involved $36.5 million in insurance.

The bureau's investigations did not include major metropolitan areas such as New York, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles and Philadelphia, which have their own fire investigating agencies.

But reports of fire officials in those areas indicate their problem is even more acute.

Since January 1962 there have been 75 bombings and still 65 in Chicago business firms.

New York City fire officials investigated 589 fires during 1963 that they termed suspicious and another 485 known incendiaries.

'The torch Is Crooked Over Nation Business

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
NEW YORK (AP)—Arson-for-profit is a crooked business growing as fast as the flames it feeds. One reason: the "torch."

The torch is not a comic strip character. He is, in underworld parlance, the professional fire-setter, the criminal who uses flame for gain.

His main aim is to collect, or help someone else collect, fire insurance on property. The target is a big one. More than $2.2 billion in fire insurance premiums are written each year.

Organized crime is turning more and more to incendiary activity, in the opinion of fire marshals and insurance investigators.

There is no slacking off in the trend, says insurance investigator Brendan P. Battle, manager of the Arson, Theft and Fraud Department of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

"Syndicate-controlled hoodlums are believed to have been responsible for recent fire-setting in at least 10 states in the East and Midwest," Battle said in an interview.

any cases including, many for motives other than profit—revenge, mischief, pyromania.

But it is a clue to the effectiveness of the professional torch that, of all the investigations, there were only six convictions of persons for setting fires to collect insurance.

Also, say the investigators, the number of fires they know or suspect of being arson for profit is probably only a fraction of the actual total.

The reason is that the professional torch knows how to set a fire so that it looks accidental, and fire tends to destroy the evidence of its origin.

How big a bite of fire insurance collection is taken by arson for profit activity is unknown.

"We have encountered with increasing frequency interstate travel on the part of gangland torches who have been given contracts calling for the destruction of business premises by fire," said Battle.

One result has been that the U.S. Justice Department is taking a new look at organized arson at the request of the insurance firms. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has begun compilation of uniform statistics on arson.

But arson for profit and its impact on the multibillion-dollar fire insurance industry is only part of the picture. There also is the human element. Fires set for profit take lives.

There are dozens of lives lost each year across the nation to flame for gain but, like the dollar cost of the torch, the true casualty totals is unknown.

Fulbright Target of Barry Backers

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., has stirred up the letter writers once again.

This time it is the supporters of Barry Goldwater.

Fulbright recently made a series of four talks in the Senate tearing into the Republican presidential nominee, Goldwater supporters responded by writing Fulbright in defense of their man.

The flow of letters hasn't been nearly as great as Fulbright has received in past years when he touched sensitive nerves of other groups by his speeches or actions in the Senate.

But there have been hundreds of letters as a result of the anti-Goldwater talks. While the bulk of the mail has been from defenders of Goldwater, Fulbright has received a sizeable stack of letters applauding him.

The mail from Arkansas hasn't been particularly heavy to date—perhaps 25-30 letters from Goldwater supporters and 5-10 from persons agreeing with Fulbright.

Many of the pro-Goldwater letters in the big stack come from southern California.

As is usual in such situations, some of the letters are unprintable. But the percentage of the scurrilous letters doesn't appear quite so big as in past instances where Bill Fulbright stirred 'em up.

Fulbright considers it as not only his duty as a Democrat to take in after Goldwater, but also as a right and a pleasure. After all, two years ago when Fulbright was seeking re-election, Goldwater invaded Arkansas and made a speech against the Arkansan.

Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., is a little puzzled over a seeming lack of interest by persons in his area in landing some fairly good but temporary federal jobs—crew leaders and enumerators for the upcoming agricultural census.

Henry Thomas of Forrest City, supervisor for the farm census for northeastern Arkansas, needs 10 county crew leaders in Gathings' district but to date, Gathings said, he's received only two inquiries.

Crew leaders are paid $2.26 an hour plus $26 for eight hours of preliminary training. In addition they get $12 a day expenses and eight cents a mile while away from home. The work will require about nine weeks in October and November.

In past censuses, Gathings said, there has been a fairly heavy demand for these jobs. He said he doesn't know whether word hasn't gotten around or whether folk are so prosperous they just aren't interested in such work.

The Rural Electrification Administration recently announced approval of a $56 million generation and transmission loan to a group of Louisiana rural electric cooperatives.

Of this amount, said Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., a total of $1,544,000 is slated to be spent on a transmission line and related facilities from the Louisiana boundary across Union, Ouachita and Nevada counties to Prescott, Ark.

The REA reported recently that rural electric systems in Arkansas are repaying to the U.S. Treasury more than $458,000 monthly in principal and interest on their loans from the REA. Similarly, rural telephone systems in Arkansas are repaying nearly $50,000 monthly.

The rural cooperatives have

World News

PARIS (AP) — Attempts to bring the feuding princes of Laos to the negotiating table in Paris appear doomed unless the pro-Communist Pathet Lao makes hurried concessions.

A Laotian Embassy official said neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma would hold a news conference Saturday and make a farewell statement before returning to Laos Monday.

The official said the premier would explain his decision to leave "unless the Pathet Lao makes some further proposals between now and the news conference."

Souvanna Thursday rejected a Pathet Lao proposal for dissident neutrals in the Plaine des Jarres to return under the command of neutralist Gen. Kong Lee.

Souvanna has been demanding withdrawal of leftist troops to positions they occupied before June 24 and neutralization of the plaine.

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Congolese government says it has recaptured almost all of north Katanga Province from Communist-backed rebels.

The national army headquarters said Thursday that it controls Katanga, leaving only a few pockets of resistance further south.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia's independent Communist government has formed ties with Comecon, but the announcement made clear it will not have full membership in the Soviet bloc economic group. The communique said Yugoslavia will cooperate in the framework of the Council of Mutual Economic Assistance — the Red equivalent of the European Common Market — in foreign trade, finance, metallurgy, machine building, chemicals and scientific and technical research.

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist bosses of East Germany's railroads are upset about engineers who make unscheduled sausage and beer stops and disrupt the timetables.

At a recent production meeting in the East German town of Greifswald, officials complained that some engineers and conductors call station restaurants along the line to find out which one has fresh backwurst, a popular German sausage.

"If a restaurant has sausages, an unscheduled stop is made and the train personnel eat them in peace," the meeting was told.

Coolies Have Left China Waterfront

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Writer

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The coolies have gone from the waterfront of Communist China and the beggars have left her streets.

Women may be growing more style-conscious and businessmen are becoming less wary in their dealings with Westerners.

But it's still a land where the foreigner gets a 65 per cent discount while the natives pay top dollar for the goods they produce.

This is the report of Capt. John Lewis, 33, Welsh master of the converted oil tanker Stancloud.

In the 10 years he has been sailing to China he has noted a gradual relaxation of once rigid restrictions governing the movement of foreigners. While he finds it easier to get around in Communist China today, there are few places to go and little to do.

Lewis spoke of the changes he has seen since he first shipped to China in 1953 as an apprentice on a ship carrying fertilizer to Tsintao.

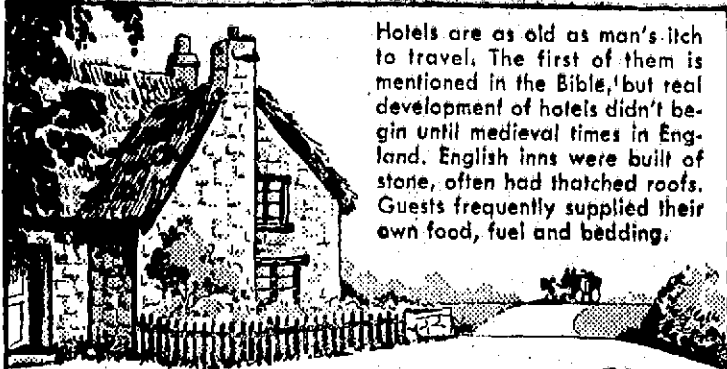

Today he is master of one of the hundreds of vessels of all registries — except those of Japan and the United States — that have carried some 6½ million tons of grain worth $500 million to Red China since early 1961.

You can carry a camera in China, provided you don't take pictures within city limits or of military installations, and you have the film processed before leaving the country.

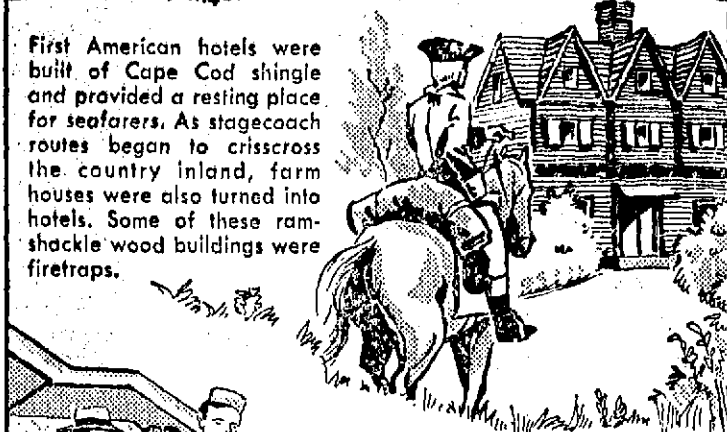

"As long as you comply with their regulations and don't cause them any bother, the authorities won't cause you any," Lewis says.

Shanghai and Dairen are dull cities with little to do and there are only two places for Lewis and his men to go — the Sea-

ALL ABOUT Hotels

Hotels are as old as man's itch to travel. The first of them is mentioned in the Bible, but real development of hotels didn't begin until medieval times in England. English inns were built of stone, often had thatched roofs. Guests frequently supplied their own food, fuel and bedding.

First American hotels were built of Cape Cod shingle and provided a resting place for seafarers. As stagecoach routes began to crisscross the country inland, farm houses were also turned into hotels. Some of these ramshackle wood buildings were firetraps.

Modern hotels are luxurious, architectural show places. Plaster-covered metal lath construction makes eye-catching interior detail possible and protects the inhabitants against fire.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Appropriately enough in this highly political season, a television series about politics had its CBS network debut Monday night.

Perhaps it is the marked contrast to the endless manias of the raft of new comedy shows or perhaps it is the welcome change from the sad personal problem series, but "Slattery's People" seems like a most attractive and intelligent addition to the schedule.

The central character, Slattery — no first name — is the minority leader of the lower house of a state legislature.

The first episode had a veteran legislator with a fine record accused of using his position as chairman of an important committee to smother a bill without a vote by his committee.

Before the hour was over, we had some idea of the workings of a state legislature, the pressures on its senators and assemblymen, all in addition to an interesting problem in political morality.

Richard Crenna, who hitherto has been seen almost entirely in rather silly comedy roles, comes on strong as a hard-headed, tough-minded idealist.

It was a well-made, thoughtful program with dramatic values.

Earlier, there was the debut of a CBS comedy, "Many Happy Returns." The series is the brainchild of Parke Levy who once gave us "December Bride." His new effort originally was called "December Groom," which is a clue of sorts.

Also on CBS Monday night, Steve Allen took over Garry Moore's old job on "I've Got a Secret." With a program that practically abandoned the long-playing show's format. This was rather welcome for a change, but the panel of four looked a little put out because it had so little to do.

What Has Happened in Arkansas

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

There is little chance that a candidate for vice president will get lonely on the campaign trail, even if he fails to draw crowds. He takes his own crowd with him.

The party accompanying Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, to Arkansas numbered about 65. Of these 20 were newsmen and 45 members of the Humphrey staff.

The staff members perform a variety of chores—from getting coffee for busy reporters to helping Humphrey with his makeup when he goes on television.

One man is assigned to do nothing but keep Humphrey moving from engagement to engagement. He has a six word vocabulary: "It's time to be going, Senator."

Humphrey proved to be a hard man to move while he was in Arkansas. He is extremely friendly and he appeared to hate to end a conversation once he had started it.

The job of making Humphrey up takes about ten minutes to apply and another five minutes to remove. But when Humphrey goes on the air he has a "facial" that a movie star would be proud of.

Sen. J. William Fulbright ran into an old friend on the platform. Humphrey spoke from. This was former Rep. Clyde T. Ellis, the man Fulbright succeeded as U.S. representative from the 3rd District in 1943. "It was Clyde who talked me into running for public office," said Fulbright. "So if you don't like the way I vote blame him."

Fulbright served one term in the House, then made a successful race for the Senate in 1944. Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado introduced Fulbright at the Hot Springs meeting in such glowing terms that Fulbright remarked: "It's too bad that such a fine introduction couldn't be made in an election year, but I'm not up this year."

The ghost of Joe T. Robinson, the great Arkansas senator during the early days of the New Deal, was aboard during the Humphrey visit. Humphrey said he first saw India's bleeding madras is having a fall fashion fling this year as it turns up in clothes for many occasions. The latest in ski-wear (left) is a water-repellent hooded parka of authentic madras by R. C. Quinn. It is in shades of green and white and lined with heavy pile. A new perk-up for sportswear is the turtleneck dickey of bleeding madras (center) and big bow on a comb. Even the continental trench coat goes Indian for fall (right) in imported madras in the new, lighter tones by MacKenna. Slouch hat is trimmed with blue denim band and can be packed flat for traveling.

Robinson from the Senate gallery, when he was a boy and Robinson was the Senate majority leader who got credit for passage of much of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's key legislation.

Humphrey lived up to his reputation as a colorful speaker. He shot at Barry Goldwater from every direction and with every kind of weapon.

In Hot Springs, he got his biggest laugh when he said: "Every once in a while Sen. Goldwater is drawn into the 20th Century. He sees a little light at the end of the passage. But it scares him and he goes back."

And in Little Rock he set the Democratic State Convention chuckling with this remark: "The Republican Party has four speeds, all in reverse. It just depends on how fast you want to go backward."

Several of the visiting newsmen who had been to Hot Springs before complained loudly when they learned that the gambling casinos had been closed.

The complaints probably would have been louder except that most of the reports were worn out. When they got Humphrey to his hotel they had put in a 15-hour day.

PRESSURE COOKERS—Alex Karras, left, and Roger Brown, the most devastating tackle combination in professional football, put plenty of pressure on passers who would take to the air against the Detroit Lions.

GM, Union Step Up Bargaining

By GENE SCHROEDER
DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union stepped up their bargaining efforts today to prevent a threatened nationwide walkout at the auto industry's biggest company.

Prodded by two strike deadlines, negotiating teams were expected to hold lengthy sessions this week and next to thrash out both a new contract for 354,000 UAW-represented employees and to settle local grievances.

UAW President Walter Reuther served a double strike notice on GM Monday, threatening to pull assembly-line workers off the job at 10 a.m. Friday unless a new national agreement is reached by that time.

Simultaneously, the union advised the giant automaker that even with a national contract on economic and noneconomic issues, there will be walkouts one week later if no settlement is forthcoming on more than 18,000 local at-the-plant demands.

Such a strike would affect 129 GM plants in 71 cities.

The UAW made its move as GM came up with a new economic offer virtually matching the agreements reached by the union earlier this month with Ford and Chrysler.

Louis Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel, said the proposal was in line with the pattern established originally at Chrysler and would put the company's hourly rated workers "on an economic par with respect to wages and benefits."

The GM official warned, that the economic proposal would become effective "only upon the negotiation of a mutually satisfactory agreement of at least three years' duration, the resolution of all the national and local demands of each party."

Reuther said working conditions, production quotas and union representation were key issues at GM.

Presidential Drive Due to Get Hotter

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Perhaps now the 1964 presidential campaign, bumping along with little fire and less light, will finally get heated up.

The day after he got the nomination Sen. Barry Goldwater predicted there'd be some "brickbats flying around all over the place" in this campaign.

He has been flinging some at President Johnson who has tried to ignore most of them by using this tactic:

Stay above the strife, avoid personalities, talk generalities, and don't say anything to antagonize Republicans who don't like Goldwater and might come over to his side.

"This has made for a dull campaign, although the tactic is understandable."

Since Johnson is away ahead of Goldwater in the polls, without any slam-banging on his part, he can ask: "Why tamper with success?"

But the restraint must have galled him for now he has announced he will campaign all over the country.

He told newsmen Monday he will discuss issues and not personalities. That resolve may not last long if Goldwater gets rougher.

Goldwater started roughing Johnson during the Republican convention when he called him a "faker" and a "phony."

But, as if he had never said this, a few hours later Goldwater was saying:

"I intend to conduct a vigorous campaign. It will not be a personal attack. It will be waged on issues solely."

"I've never believed anybody enhances their position or their beliefs by delving into rumors and gossip about the opponents."

But time passed and Goldwater was complaining about Johnson's broadcast to the nation that he had ordered retaliation against North Viet Nam for attacks on U.S. ships in the Gulf of Tonkin.

"I cannot imagine a Republican president warning the Communists in advance of an action such as that recently taken in response to the attacks on our ships. Certainly the element of surprise was shattered by the advance warning."

He found fault with Johnson's acceptance speech at Atlantic City because he "did not even mention communism" and with his Labor Day speech because he had neglected to mention "freedom" as an element of Johnson's "Great Society."

Goldwater repeatedly has talked of scandal in Washington, saying the White House "is under a dark cloud" with the "shadow of scandal" falling across it.

He has referred to Johnson as "Whitewash Lyndon" and added: "I want to clean up the government; he wants to clean out the Treasury."

In the heart of depressed Appalachia Goldwater called Johnson's announced war on poverty a "phony" designed to "further selfish political ambitions."

Up till now it has been Johnson's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who has had to do the in-fighting for the Democratic ticket, either with mockery or direct swipes at Goldwater.

Some Democratic senators, like J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, have pelted Goldwater, and so have some Cabinet members like Dean Rusk and Robert S. McNamara, secretaries of state and defense.

Rusk and McNamara called Goldwater "irresponsible" when some of his comments on Johnson's orders to naval commanders in the Tonkin area were interpreted as meaning he said Johnson told them they could use atomic weapons.

It was in this same instance that Johnson made perhaps his severest public criticism of Goldwater.

He accused him of making "loose charges without any shadow of justification," thereby "doing disservice to our national security and disservice to peace and, for that matter, a disservice to the entire free world."

Monday night Goldwater, a few hours after Johnson said he would now really start campaigning, stuck another needle in him.

Goldwater "dared" Johnson to debate him — "I demand of him — Debate."

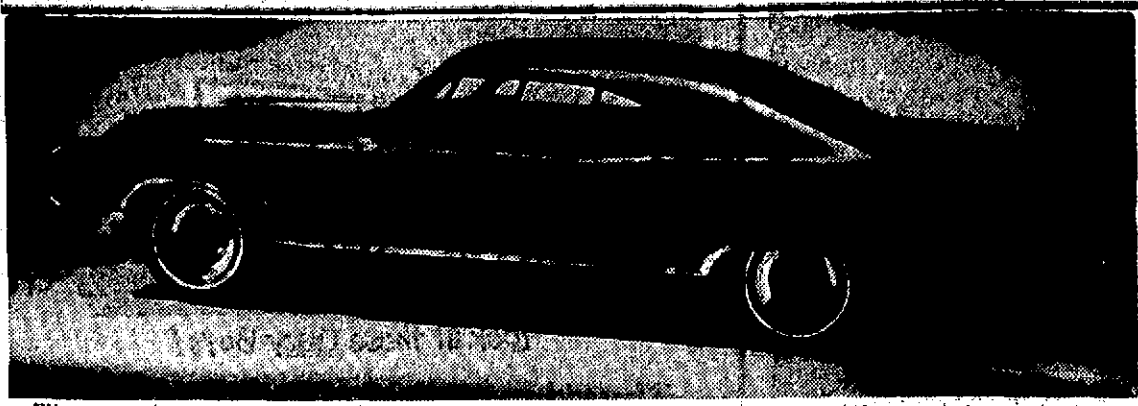

—Although in delivery he changed the "demand" of his prepared text to "ask."

Only last January Goldwater said he wouldn't debate an opponent if he was president.

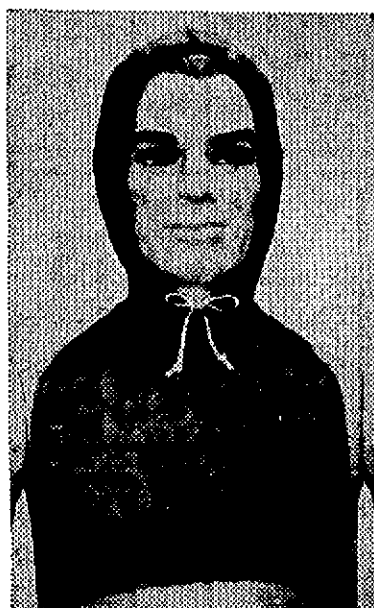

"I wouldn't debate him," Goldwater said. "Why buy his audience? Let him get his own."

BUICK WILDCAT FOR 1965

The semi-fastback styling of two-door models in Buick's 1965 line is epitomized in the Wildcat with its longer hood, lower, longer roofline and short rear deck. Three inches have been added to the hood by increasing the wheelbase from 123 to 126 inches for improved riding and handling. Overall length remains approximately the same as last year. A new cross-flow radiator design permits lowering the hood line on all models in LeSabre, Wildcat and

Persuasion Replaces Bayonets

By GORDON BEARD
CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Friendly persuasion has replaced bayonets and tear gas on the streets of Cambridge, where racial turbulence kept National Guard troops on duty for more than a year.

The Guard still is represented, but it's a detachment composed solely of Capt. William A. Harris.

The work of the 44-year-old Negro has been so impressive his tour of duty has been extended twice, and Harris now is to remain until after the November elections.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes agreed to the latest extension, requested by Dorchester County State's Attorney Awdry C. Thompson and by Clarence Miles, who heads a special commission named by Tawes to promote interracial harmony in the community of 12,200.

Harris was relieved as deputy this summer to keep Negro

U.S. marshal at the request of Maryland Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan and sent to Cambridge May 19 as a member of Gen. George Gelston's staff. His assignment: Work with the Negro community to find out their chief desires and needs.

When the last troops were removed July 11, one week after the federal civil rights law was enacted, Miles asked the governor to keep Harris in Cambridge as a liaison man between the white and Negro communities.

"Capt. Harris is like a chemical catalyst," says Maurice Rimpo, editor of the Cambridge Banner.

"If someone like him had been here two years ago to keep open the lines of communication, we may never had had serious racial trouble in Cambridge. He speaks the language of both sides."

During the day, Harris literally lives in the streets, where he can reach more people. He has a nodding acquaintance with many residents. Some call him by name; others wave as he passes.

Production, Prices Tend Upward

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Both prices and production tend upward in various segments of the metals industry.

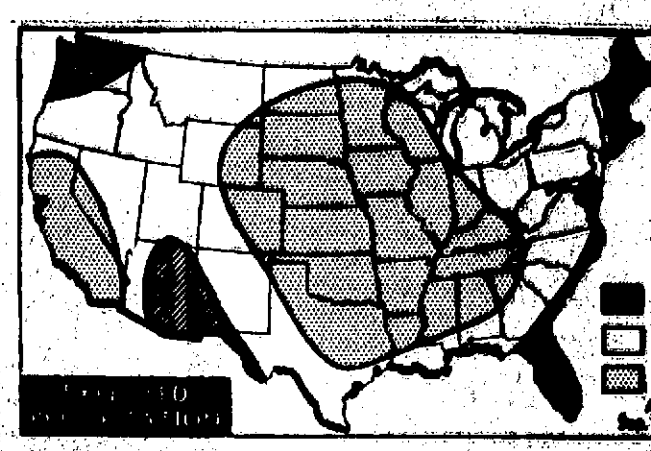

This is the fruit of the increasing general prosperity at home and in other leading industrial nations. It is also the result of rising production costs in many instances. And often it's a wary testing of the still stiff rivalry between producers of different materials competing for the same market.

The price rises are coming in dribsles — some steel products here, some aluminum products there, along with some copper, zinc and lead prices.

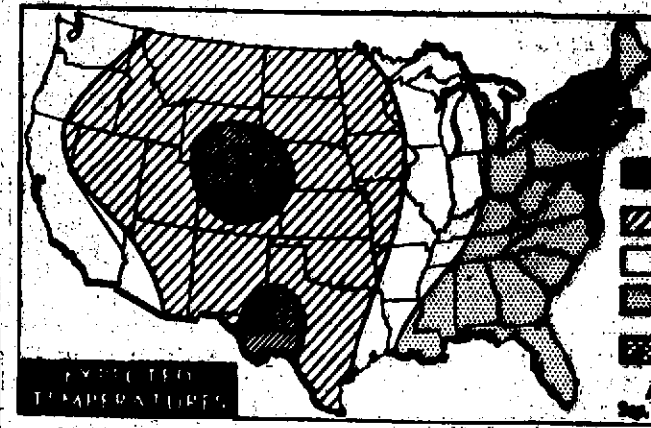

In each instance the firming of production schedules preceded the price rises. One by one various metals have overcome the lag of demand behind the increased capacity to produce.

This lag had stiffened competition and weakened prices in recent years. Competition spread from producers of one metal to those of many other materials that could substitute,

TV Station Offers Candidates Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock television station KTHV (Channel 11) Monday sent telegrams to Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Winthrop Rockefeller offering them free time for a television debate.

B. G. Robertson, general manager, offered 30 minutes or an hour of prime viewing time for the debate. A spokesman at the station said neither Faubus or his Republican opponent had answered the telegrams Monday night.

now at home.

Increased demand abroad had soaked up much of the surplus capacity to produce copper and removed much of the threat of cheap imports into the United States.

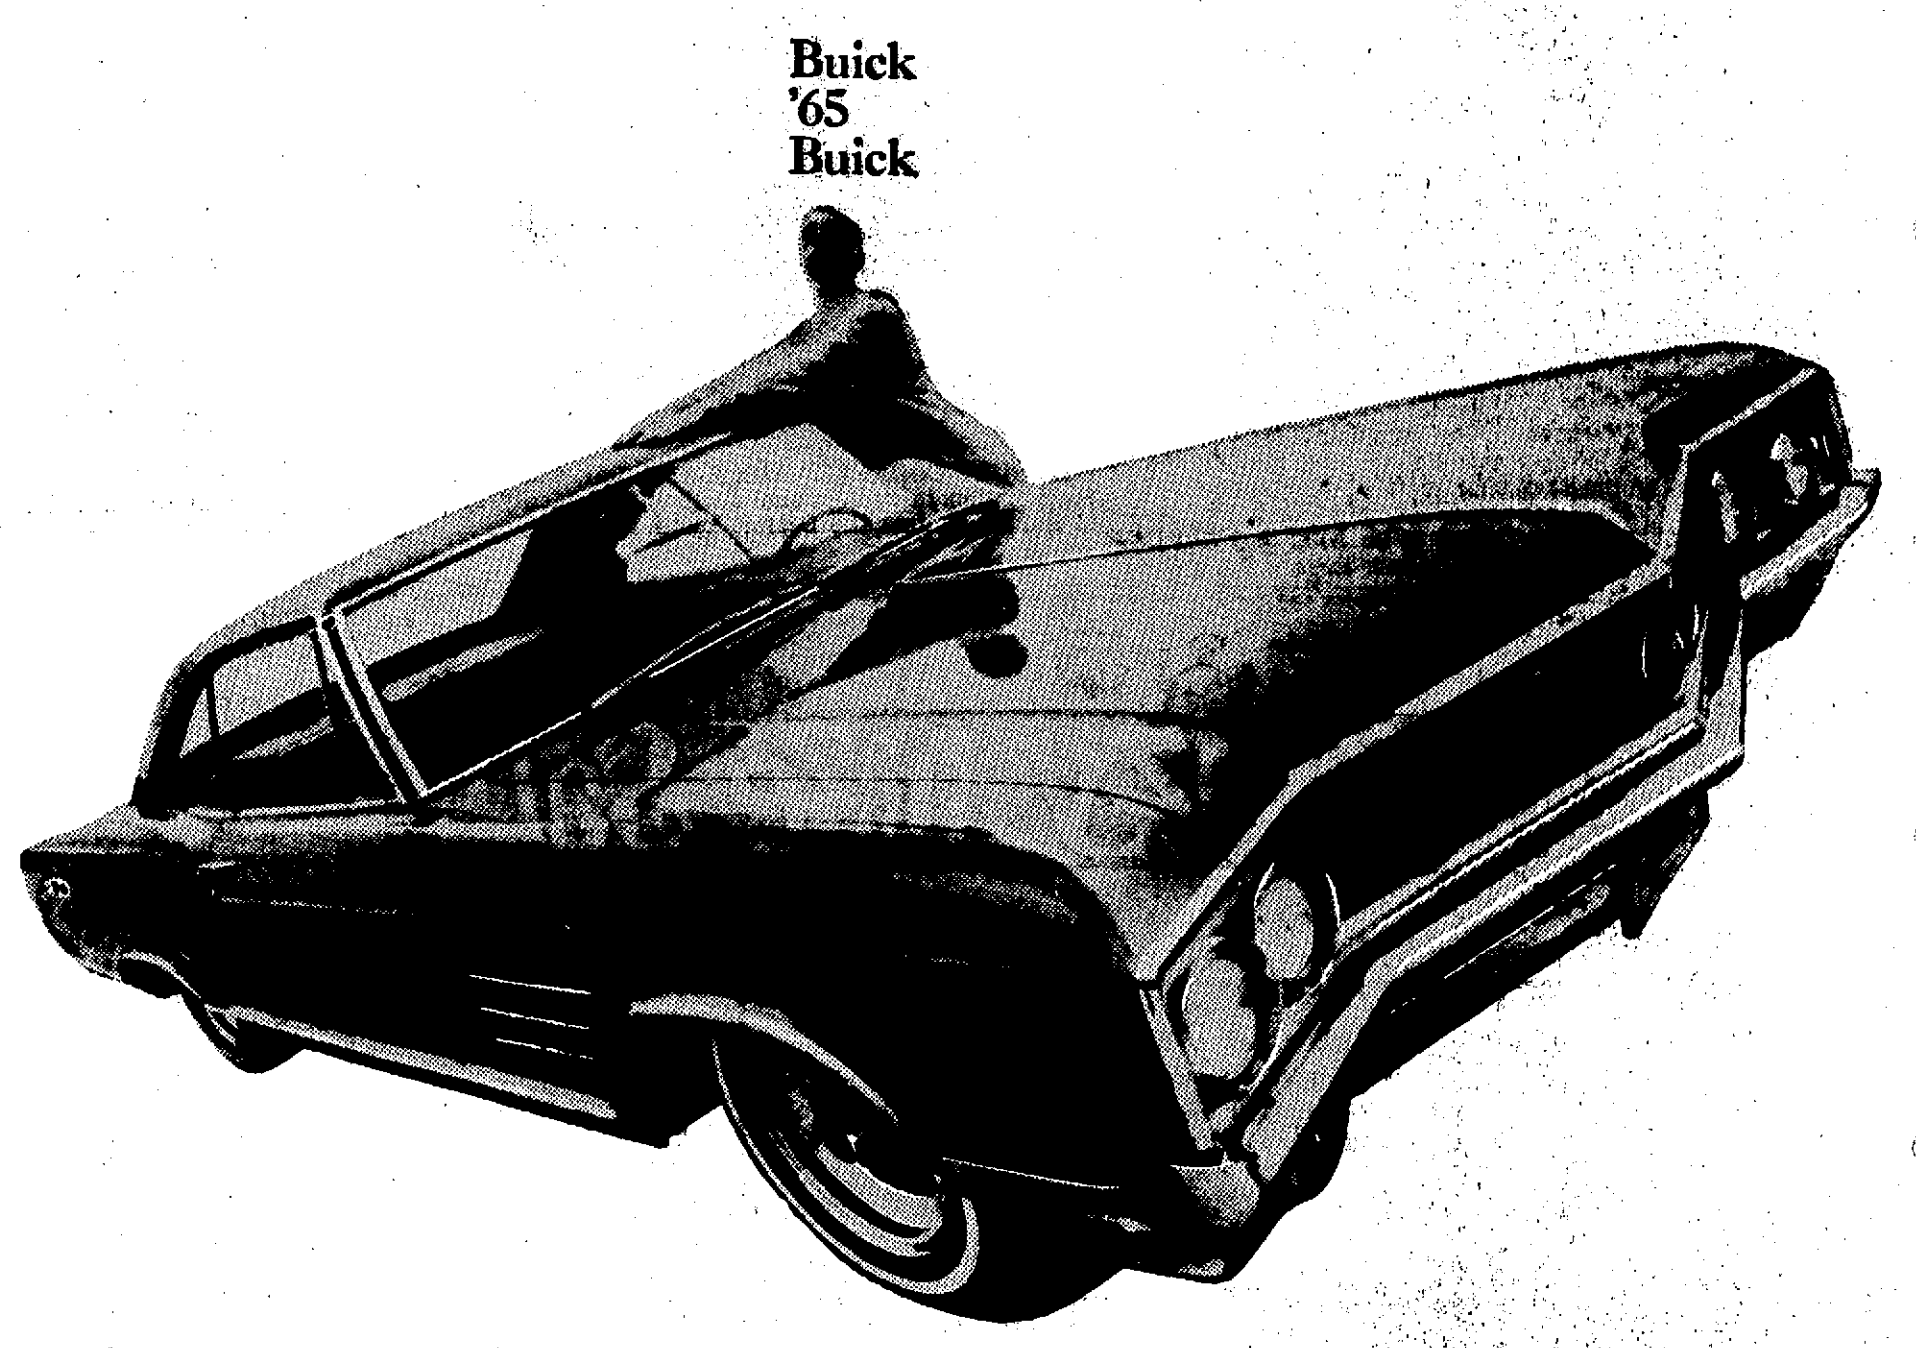

And new labor contracts with American mine workers have raised costs for many U.S. copper producers.

Prices of a number of steel products in big demand have been lifted piecemeal this year.

Steel customers report the market is tightening, delivery time is lengthening, and some mills are unofficially allocating shipments to regular customers first.

The auto wage settlements have increased belief that general price rises may be coming. And the announced goal of the steelworkers for total job security and big pay raises next year is firming up the urge of steel users to build stocks.

All of this, steelmen believe, is making it more likely that a general rise in steel prices could be made to stick.

We changed the Buick a lot this year. And you may never be the same again yourself.

We doubt you'll want to be the same. Not once you set eyes on our new Buicks. On the Buick Special and the Skylark. The LeSabre, Electra 225, Riviera. And on the sleek, modified fastback of the wild, wilder, Wildcat in the picture.

True, there's a new high-style touch. But that's hardly all. Engineering still has the emphasis. It's a Buick tradition. So are the extras. Buick spends a little extra on. Like finned brake drums that do a little better. And smoother drivelines. A tuned suspension to smooth ribcage roads. Now add Buick's Super Turbine transmissions—and you have an idea of what Buick owners have always liked about Buick. We think you'll feel the same.

Holiday Mood for the Auto Industry

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry was in a holiday mood today as it lifted the curtain on the first of its 343 new 1965 models.

Ford Motor Co. got the jump on its rivals when its Lincoln Continental became the first car to go on public display.

All General Motors divisions and American Motors will unveil their new products Thursday, with Chrysler Corp. and the rest of the Ford's lines due for public view Friday.

Salesmen in 40,000 dealer showrooms across the country had their pencils sharpened to resume the fast selling pace which marked the 1964 model run.

One of the key questions was whether auto makers would hold the price line, in view of contract gains won by the United Auto Workers and increased costs of some materials.

A partial answer came Tuesday when Ford announced that 1965 Lincoln-Continental prices would be unchanged. The four-door sedan, for example, was listed at a $5,766 factory-suggested price, the same basic price the car has had since it was introduced in September 1960.

In general, the trend in 1965 cars was towards longer, more powerful vehicles.

On the styling front, the most noticeable thing about 1965 cars is that their generally follow long, clean lines with a minimum of gingerbread. More engine options and a raft of accessories are available.

Chevrolet, with 45 models in its five lines, offers more choices than any other car maker. Ford is next with 44.

The fastback, a straight sloping line from the rear window to the rear bumper was noticeable on quite a few new cars.

The industry seemed to operate on the theory that customers had more money and wanted more than a stripped-down car.

Many People Know How They Feel But Not How Old They Are — Here's a Test Chart

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people know how old they feel — but not how young they are.

But there are tests for youth. For example, you're still young, at least by the spirit's calendar, if —

You spend more time planning for tomorrow than remembering yesterday.

The antics of the Beatles and their admirers amuse you more than they depress you.

When you see a small group of children playing hopscotch, you have a secret impulse to join the game.

You can win the confidence of teen-agers, and not think their dreams much more foolish than your own.

In a real pinch you are willing to lend an acquaintance more money than you believe you really can afford.

You can buy a new suit without baring the salesman about how much more expensive clothes are now than when you were a boy.

When you open a package, you automatically throw the string away instead of winding it into a small ball and putting it into a drawer.

Every now and then you ponder over whether it wouldn't still be a good idea to grow a mustache or a beard.

The fringe benefits of your present position, such as seniority, insurance and pension program, haven't made you a prisoner. You'd still jump to another job if you found one that was more exciting.

You spend more time getting things done than in writing memos about why they're impossible.

It is still possible for you to stay up after midnight without worrying about how terrible you'll feel in the morning.

You recognize your prejudices for what they are—prejudices, instead of trying to venerate them as virtues.

If you make a fool of yourself, you don't stay away all night brooding about it.

You'd rather go to a new place on a vacation than return to one you've been to many times before.

Girls seem to get better-looking every summer—even though you don't do much about them anymore. When you read that they're wearing a new flavored lipstick this season, this doesn't seem silly to you—you wonder how it tastes.

You don't walk or ride to work the same way every day. You're not afraid to try a new dish or a new restaurant.

When a full moon strides an autumn sky, it stirs in you a suppressed desire to run away from home and see what lies beyond the far hills.

But, of course, if you do actually run away from home it may not prove you're still young. It may only prove you're in your second childhood.

GM, Union Appear Near Agreement

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — Controversial non-economic problems appeared today to be the major roadblocks to a peaceful settlement in labor contract negotiations between General Motors and the United Auto Workers Union.

Bargaining teams — faced with an impending strike deadline — met in morning, afternoon and night sessions Tuesday seeking agreement on a pact covering some 354,000 UAW-represented employees at 129 GM plants in 71 cities across the nation.

Their time was devoted almost exclusively to such matters as working conditions, production standard, union representation and disciplinary lay-offs.

Both sides agreed there was still time to avoid a nationwide strike before the 10 a.m. Friday deadline set by the UAW. Their comments to newsmen, however, were anything but encouraging.

"There was no progress whatsoever — and a lot of work has yet to be done," said UAW President Walter Reuther.

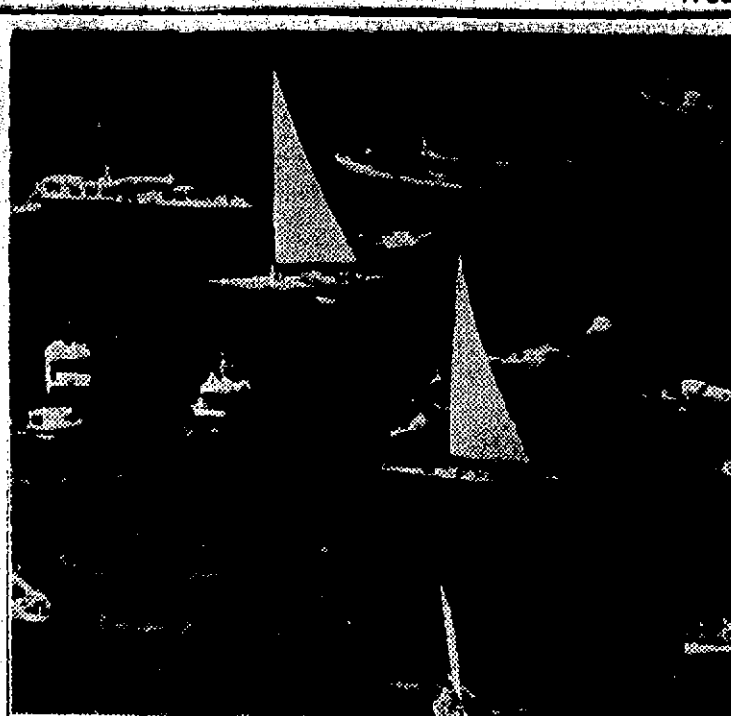

"There was no substantial forward movement," agreed Louis Seaton, GM vice president for personnel. "But if we work at it, there is no reason in the world why we can't reach a settlement on both economic and non-economic matters."

In an effort to speed up the process, both sides agreed to scale down their representation at the main bargaining table to six members each. Other negotiators formed subcommittees concentrating on such specialized subjects as pensions, insurance, skilled trades and the like.

Friday's strike deadline is for an agreement on a national contract covering such items as wages, pensions, vacations, relief time and working conditions.

The union was believed to be the first to endorse Rockefeller.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's new thriller series, "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," broadcast for the first time Tuesday night, has just about everything you could cram into a show of this category. Even so, it just doesn't prove very entertaining.

There is the brave hero, played by Robert Vaughn, who is tall, dark, handsome and smart. He is an agent for a super-secret outfit out to destroy "Thrush," which is a bad organization planning to control the world.

In the course of the first episode there were a lot of shooting, quite a bit of poison gas, a bomb plant in a car, the explosion of a nuclear reactor, savage man-hunting dogs and near the end our hero was slowly being steamed to death.

The plot was a familiar one about the planned assassination of the leader of a new African state who was visiting Washington. Our man Napoleon Solo was assigned to prevent it.

In spite of all the frenetic activity, it seemed for the most part, a rather turgid, predictable bore.

CBS had a premiere Tuesday night, too, an earnest little documentary composed of old silent film newsreel clips of World War I. As the historic characters of the early 1900s scammed around on the vintage film like so many Mack Sennett comedians, a narrator attempted to explain the forces that exploded over Europe after the assassination of an Austrian archduke in Sarajevo.

The producers of this unlikely series of 26 programs must wonder how they ever landed in CBS evening prime time — and indeed so does this viewer.

CBS has been working since last May, covering the hearings of the Warren Commission on the death of President John F. Kennedy. The fruit of this swill will be shown Sunday afternoon, in a two-hour special, 5-7 p.m. EDT.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said today up to 40 per cent of North Arkansas may receive scattered showers and thundershowers today and Wednesday.

Scattered showers are forecast for the entire state, however.

Temperatures during the next two days should remain about the same, the bureau said, with maximum readings mostly in the 80s.

McKee was reported in serious, but not critical, condition at a

Today is '65 Pontiac Day.

1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks

What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new all-over Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic — the silkier, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!

'65 Pontiac Pontiac

How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.

'65 Pontiac Tempest

Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that! The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.
